THIRTEENTH YEAR. NO. 95.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1897.

TWO CENTS

WIPED OUT HIS FAMILY

Iowa Farmer Slaughtered Wife and Six Children.

ENDED BY SHOOTING HIMSELF.

John Boecker, Without Apparent Cause, Deliberately Shot Them One After Another—Borrowed a Revolver and Practiced on a Target.

CARROLL, Ia., Sept. 28.—The slaughter of a mother and her six children occurred at the home of John Boecker, a farmer living eight miles northwest of here. Afterward the fiendish or demented husband and father at whose hands they died completed his bloody work by sending a bullet into his own head, inflicting a fatal wound. The family were prosperous Germans. No motive for the tragedy has been disclosed.

Boecker's victims are his wife and three children; Caroline, aged 14; Christine, aged 9; Henry, aged 8; Lizzie, aged 6; John, aged 3, and an infant. All are dead but Harry, and the latter cannot recover from his wounds.

Boecker had an engagement to help a neighbor thresh, and, on his not putting in an appearance, his brother Henry, who lives about 20 rods away, went about 9 o'clock to see why he did not come. The doors of the Boecker house were locked and there were no signs of life about. Henry tried to get in the house, but met no response, and finally he kicked in the door and came upon a horrible scene. Boecker, with his wife and baby, slept in a back room, and the three corpses lay on one bed. The wife had been shot in the neck with a shotgun, which stood in the corner, the baby had been shot and its head crushed with the butt of a revolver.

The man, still breathing, had a bullet hole high on the forehead and by his side was a revolver with two chambers empty. Upstairs Henry and Lizzie lay on a bed with bullet holes in the forehead, the latter dead the boy still alive. In the opposite corner of the same room Caroline, Christine and John were dead, each with a bullet hole in forehead, though Caroline had two.

It is undoubtedly wholesale murder and suicide. The indications are that Boecker first dispatched his wife with the shotgun, shooting her in the neck, then used the revolver on the baby, first shooting it and then knocking out its brains with the butt. Boecker then went upstairs where the five children were sleeping and killed them. He must have used a light for his aim was effective, each victim being shot in the forehead. All but two children met with instant death, for the blood clots were under their head and two lay as calmly reposed as if in sleep. All except Henry, who is not yet dead, were attired in night robes. Boecker had reloaded the weapon while upstairs and evidently sent the second bullet into the oldest girl's brain just before leaving the room. Going down stairs he stretched himself beside the corpse of his wife and shot himself. His right hand was burnt by the powder.

The weapon he had borrowed from his brother Henry last Thursday, remarking that he wanted it to kill rats in the cellar. It is now recalled that Boecker since then practiced target shooting with it. Boecker was over 34 years old and for over 20 years lived on the same farm. He was married 11 years ago and after living a year with his parents moved to the scene of last night's tragedy, within hailing distance of the old home. He recently bought a 200 acre farm. He attended Catholic services at Breda yesterday with his wife and some of the children. Later in the day he was visited by a neighbor who says that when he left the Boeckers' home in the evening they were seemingly a happy family.

It is said that he had disagreed with the old folks over the occupancy of the farm on which they lived, and this is assigned by some as the cause of the trouble.

WOODFORD IN SPAIN.

The Dons Protest That Everything Is Lovely.

MADRID, Sept. 28.—The United States minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, has paid a visit of courtesy to the Spanish premier, General Azcarra.

Several of the newspapers of this city allege that General Woodford has said, in interviews with their reporters, that the negotiations between the United States and Spain on the subject of Cuba have not begun, and that he has only had a preliminary chat with the Spanish minister for foreign affairs. The general is quoted as having added that he found the Duke of Tetuan to be a most amiable and able man, and that no ultimatum to Spain was delivered, as that country would not put up with it, and because the intention of the United States was only to offer its good offices in the most friendly terms.

Secretary Sherman still, according to the interviews in the Spanish newspapers, desires a prompt solution of the Cuban question by November at the latest, as he fears the "jingo" will make themselves heard on the re-assembling of congress.

Finally, it is alleged, that General

Woodford has said that in the event of complete accord being established between Spain and the United States, the latter will take measures to suppress filibustering.

LIKELY MRS. LUETGERT.

Woman Claiming That as Her Name Seen in Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Sept. 28.—There are people here who believe that the missing wife of Luetgert, the sausagemaker, is being harbored somewhere in the outskirts of this city.

A number of boys on a nutting expedition along the lake shore came upon a woman who regarded them closely. Two of them, Albert Zimmerman and George Pfitzer, thinking the woman a resident of the farm, asked her for permission to pick some nuts.

She replied that it was not her land, that she was merely visiting there; that her home was in Chicago and her name was Luetgert; that her husband was a butcher, and that she had fled from home because he threatened to cut her up. She is alleged to have stated further that her husband and his agents were searching for her, but that her friends would not give her up.

The woman was about Mrs. Luetgert's height and weight and wore a blue dress and white apron. The boys reported the case in town and a policeman who went to investigate found only that a strange appearing woman had been seen in the neighborhood. She had talked to no one except the boys. The woman had every appearance of being demented.

DEBTS SORE ON STRIKES.

He Says They Are Provoked by Capitalists and Don't Pay.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Two hundred delegates were present at the national labor conference called by the recent St. Louis meeting. E. V. Debs explained his social democracy.

"Strikes don't pay," said Mr. Debs. "All strikes are lost. They are useless. They are caused by the employing classes. Capitalists provoke them, knowing well their cause is won before the conflict is begun. The labor unions of this country have all they can do to take care of their own men. Never was this better exemplified than in the recent miners' strike.

"Never in my experience have I seen a strike which had the sympathy of the public, and even part of the employing class, as that one did, yet when an appeal was made for financial aid, less than 7 cents per striking miner was received."

NEEDS NO GOLD NOW.

Your Uncle Sam Is Making No Concessions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Assistant Secretary Vanderlip has received a telegram from a leading banker in New York asking upon what terms the government would receive $1,000,000 or more in gold in San Francisco, and upon receipt of telegraphic notice of its deposit, issue currency against it in New York.

The assistant secretary has replied in effect that the government is not in need of gold and therefore will not be able to make any concessions as to transportation and insurance charges in the present instance.

SALISBURY'S OBJECTIONS.

It Is Confirmed That He Is Opposed to Russia and Japan.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—An announcement has been made confirming the dispatches that the Marquis of Salisbury has not withdrawn from the Bering sea conference, but has simply objected to the presence of Russia and Japan. Negotiations on the subject are proceeding. Great Britain is willing to take part in the conference, and is endeavoring to secure the acquiescence of Canada.

CONNECTING SEA AND LAKES.

President McKinley's Commission Has Decided Upon a Route.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—The deep waterways commission, appointed by President McKinley to report on a canal route connecting the upper lakes with the seaboard, have practically selected a route according to a statement made by Chief Engineer Harrison of the commission, starting from North Tonawanda and extending to Lake Ontario, the outlet to be near Wilson; beginning again at Oswego, thence to Lake Oneida, and from there to the Mohawk river, which is a direct connection via the Hudson.

SPAIN TO SEND SHIPS.

Her Answer to the Dispatch of American Vessels.

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—A dispatch from Madrid asserts that a powerful squadron will immediately proceed to Cuba on the pretext of attending the installation of the new floating dock at Havana, but really an answer to the dispatch of the American flotilla in Florida waters.

Works Resume at Hollidaysburg.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Sept. 28.—Operations have been resumed at the Hollidaysburg Iron and Nail works after a long period of idleness. The Eleanor Iron works, which have been shut down for improvements and repairs, will start up on Oct. 1.

LABOR'S FRIEND.

The Miners' "Screen Bill" was always opposed by Operator Chapman.

MARTIN IS CENSURED.

Luzerne Jury Says Lattimer Shooting Was Unnecessary.

BUT TWO JURORS DISAGREED.

The Verdict Charges the Sheriff With Intercepting the Marchers—Says They Were Peaceable on a Public Highway. Four Jurors Joined in the Censure.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 28.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of the striking miners at Lattimer met in Deputy Coroner Gowman's office and after an hour's deliberation rendered the following verdict:

"That from the circumstances of the case and the evidence offered the said Clement Placock and others came to their deaths by gunshot wounds on Sept. 10, 1897, at the hands of Sheriff James Martin and his deputies, and in this we, the jury, do all agree, and we, Philip J. Boyle, Thomas T. Thomas, Barton Freas and Peter McKiernan of this jury, do further say that the said Clement Placock, with others, was marching peaceably and unarmed on the public highway, that they were intercepted by the said Sheriff Martin and his deputies and mercilessly shot to death, and we do further find that the killing was unnecessary and could have been avoided without serious injury to either person or property, and we find finally that the killing was wanton and unjustifiable, but in this we, George Maue and F. J. McNeal of this jury, do not concur, and we, the jury, do further say that there was such strong suspicion of unlawful violence at the hands of person or persons unknown to this jury as to make this inquest necessary."

ANOTHER BLOODY RIOT.

Affray Over Hazleton Trouble Results in the Fatal Injury of Nine Men. Two Score Were Injured in an Early Morning Row.

GIRARDVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—At least nine men received fatal injuries and possibly two score others were more or less seriously wounded in a bloody riot here. The battle was the outcome of a quarrel over the Hazleton troubles. Thirty-six men are known to have been wounded and about 50 more being secreted by their friends, who fear they will be sent to jail.

Twelve of the ringleaders were brought before Justice Elias Kissinger and ten before Justice H. B. Johnson. All were charged with assault with intent to kill, housebreaking and rioting, and were held in heavy bail for court. Many more warrants have been issued, but have not been served as yet.

Dr. Charles Schlesman attended to 22 of the wounded, none of whom, he says, will die. Drs. William Monaghan and James Donaghy attended to 14 others, and how many the other physicians cared for is not known. Three other men have been reported dead, but this cannot be verified as yet, on account of the uncommunicative nature of the participants.

The story of the riot is as follows: Several hundred Poles boarded at William Culacabbage's hotel on Second street. Joseph Cavendish is proprietor of a hotel at the east end of town, where several hundred more Poles make their headquarters. Bad blood has always existed between them, and the recent strike troubles at Hazleton embittered them still more. Last night matters came to a crisis. Culacabbage, it is charged, and his followers to the number of several hundred armed themselves with guns, revolvers, knives, axes, and clubs, marched to Cavendish's hotel, where several hundred of their enemies were celebrating payday.

The Cavendish men ascertained that their foes were marching on them, and, arming themselves hurriedly, awaited their arrival. After a demonstrative march the Culacabbage contingent arrived and immediately stormed the saloon.

Then a bloody battle ensued. The men fought like demons, the shooting was fast and furious—axes, knives, clubs and other weapons were used with deadly effect. The battle lasted almost an hour, when the Culacabbage gang was routed, leaving their wounded behind.

Everything in the house was smashed and the floors were strewn with wounded men.

The walls were bespattered with blood and shreds of human flesh. After the routed rioters had returned to their headquarters the Cavendish gang armed themselves to the teeth and marched to their enemies' rendezvous, where a battle still bloodier than the first ensued. The police force and the constables of the surrounding region were called to the scene, but were unable to cope with the rioting horde, who continued hostilities until morning.

BENEFICIAL TO LUETGERT.

His Business Partner Testified in Sausage Man's Favor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The leading event in the trial of A. L. Luetgert was the evidence of William Charles, Luetgert's business partner. He explained why, as he stated, the caustic potash in which the body of Mrs. Louise Luetgert is alleged by the prosecution to have been dissolved, was bought. According to Charles' story the potash was purchased as the principal ingredient of a quantity of soft soap to be used in cleaning up the big factory preparatory to its sale to an English syndicate.

The witness said he suggested this method of putting the factory in shape himself, and that Luetgert, acting upon the suggestion, ordered a barrel of caustic potash weighing 375 pounds sent to the factory in March last. This was about the time the prosecution claims the negotiations were pending between Luetgert and Davey, the mysterious Englishman, who is said to have represented the syndicate and who borrowed something like $25,000 from Luetgert.

PRESIDENT HAS A MISHAP.

Slight Accident to McKinley While Driving at Adams.

ADAMS, Miss., Sept. 28.—Owing to a slight indisposition of Mrs. McKinley the trip of the presidential party to Williamstown was deferred until this afternoon.

President McKinley and Attorney-General McKenna joined Mr. Plunkett in an hour's drive about the town. During the ride a slight mishap occurred. As they were passing along Summer street a strap broke and the collar on one of the horses fell off. The animal tripped and the other became frightened, but the coolness of the driver prevented a serious accident. The president jumped out of the carriage and the others followed.

YELLOW JACK AT BAY.

Weather Increases Cases but Lessens Death Rate.

MANY HAVE BEEN FULLY CURED.

Authorities at New Orleans Are Hopeful—Expected That the Spreading of the Fever May Be Checked—Southern Mails Are Fumigated.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—Warmer weather in the past two or three days has had the effect of increasing, to some extent, the number of new cases of yellow fever, but it has equally had the effect of sending down the death rate.

There were 22 cases on Saturday, 17 Sunday and, up to half past 6 o'clock Monday, 21 cases. There were only two deaths Saturday, none Sunday and two Monday. Present experience proves that warm weather adds to the number of cases but reduces the mortality, while cold weather diminishes the number of cases and enlarges the death rate. Physicians and the authorities agree that the situation is steadily improving. They believe that the chances are growing more remote every day of an epidemic, and that there is little likelihood that the disease will assume, before cold weather, a much more virulent form than at present.

Prof. Metz, who is at the head of the work of sanitation and fumigation, said: "Figuring discloses that there have been up to 6:30 Monday evening 158 cases. Of these 19 have died and 88 have recovered. The death date, with the present conditions, will be small. The death rate tonight is barely above 12 per cent."

Mails Are Fumigated.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Postmaster General Gary authorized the announcement that all the mails leaving New Orleans in any direction are thoroughly fumigated under directions prepared by Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine hospital service.

DECREASE IN DEFICIT.

Condition of National Treasury Shows Great Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The September statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows a material decrease in the deficit as compared with August. The increase that will be shown in the receipts from internal revenue sources seems to justify the expectation of the treasury officials that by January the deficit will have been reduced to a nominal amount. The excess of expenditures over receipts so far this month amounts to more than $3,250,000, but it is expected that by October 1 this excess will have been reduced to $3,000,000 or less, making the deficit for the first quarter of the fiscal year about $28,000,000.

Already the receipts from internal revenue exceed those of last year by $6,000,000 and it is predicted that by Jan. 1 this increase will have reached $7,000,000. After the first of the year sugar is expected to figure prominently in the receipts and before the close of the calendar year much is expected from wool imports. Expenditures on account of the Pacific railroads at the beginning of the year will be exceptionally heavy.

HENRY GEORGE FOR MAYOR.

Nominated by New York Bryanites. Tracy the Republican Choice.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Henry George was unanimously nominated for mayor of Greater New York by the United Democracy, composed of free silver clubs.

The Republican district leaders have decided to nominate the following ticket today: Mayor, Benjamin F. Tracy; comptroller, Ashbel P. Fitch; president of council, Ross Appleton.

Tammany hall has not decided on a ticket, but for mayor suggests William Sohmer, George B. McClellan and C. H. Knox.

Governor Pingree Missing.

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—Governor Pingree's friends are becoming uneasy as the time goes by and his whereabouts are not located. The governor left Detroit two weeks ago, supposedly for a trip. The only clue to his whereabouts is found in a dispatch from Curacao, West Indies, saying the governor and Colonel Sutton are figuring on securing a railroad concession from the Venezuelan government.

Betrayed Cuban Supplies.

HAVANA, Sept. 28.—A portion of the supply of arms and ammunition brought by the expedition landed at Campo, Fla., by Brigadier General de Cardenas was captured by the Spanish through the treachery of Dr. Louis Mayolini, who accompanied the expedition.

Montana Reservation to Be Opened.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The land office commissioner has been informed that the Blackfeet Indian reservation in Montana has been surveyed and will be opened as soon as the report can be approved. The lands will be subject to entry only under the mining laws.

MANY HAVE BEEN FULLY CURED.

Authorities at New Orleans Are Hopeful—Expected That the Spreading of the Fever May Be Checked—Southern Mails Are Fumigated.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—Warmer weather in the past two or three days has had the effect of increasing, to some extent, the number of new cases of yellow fever, but it has equally had the effect of sending down the death rate.

There were 22 cases on Saturday, 17 Sunday and, up to half past 6 o'clock Monday, 21 cases. There were only two deaths Saturday, none Sunday and two Monday. Present experience proves that warm weather adds to the number of cases but reduces the mortality, while cold weather diminishes the number of cases and enlarges the death rate. Physicians and the authorities agree that the situation is steadily improving. They believe that the chances are growing more remote every day of an epidemic, and that there is little likelihood that the disease will assume, before cold weather, a much more virulent form than at present.

Prof. Metz, who is at the head of the work of sanitation and fumigation, said: "Figuring discloses that there have been up to 6:30 Monday evening 158 cases. Of these 19 have died and 158 have recovered. The death date, with the present conditions, will be small. The death rate tonight is barely above 12 per cent."

Mails Are Fumigated.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Postmaster General Gary authorized the announcement that all the mails leaving New Orleans in any direction are thoroughly fumigated under directions prepared by Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine hospital service.

DECREASE IN DEFICIT.

Condition of National Treasury Shows Great Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The September statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows a material decrease in the deficit as compared with August. The increase that will be shown in the receipts from internal revenue sources seems to justify the expectation of the treasury officials that by January the deficit will have been reduced to a nominal amount. The excess of expenditures over receipts so far this month amounts to more than $3,250,000, but it is expected that by October 1 this excess will have been reduced to $3,000,000 or less, making the deficit for the first quarter of the fiscal year about $28,000,000.

Already the receipts from internal revenue exceed those of last year by $6,000,000 and it is predicted that by Jan. 1 this increase will have reached $7,000,000. After the first of the year sugar is expected to figure prominently in the receipts and before the close of the calendar year much is expected from wool imports. Expenditures on account of the Pacific railroads at the beginning of the year will be exceptionally heavy.

HENRY GEORGE FOR MAYOR.

Nominated by New York Bryanites. Trace the Republican Choice.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Henry George was unanimously nominated for mayor of Greater New York by the United Democracy, composed of free silver clubs.

The Republican district leaders have decided to nominate the following ticket today: Mayor, Benjamin F. Tracy; comptroller, Ashbel P. Fitch; president of council, Ross Appleton. Tammany hall has not decided on a ticket, but for mayor suggests William Sohmer, George B. McClellan and C. H. Knox.

Governor Pingree Missing.

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—Governor Pingree's friends are becoming uneasy as the time goes by and his whereabouts are not located. The governor left Detroit two weeks ago, supposedly for a trip. The only clue to his whereabouts is found in a dispatch from Curacao, West Indies, saying the governor and Colonel Sutton are figuring on securing a railroad concession from the Venezuelan government.

Betrayed Cuban Supplies.

HAVANA, Sept. 28.—A portion of the supply of arms and ammunition brought by the expedition landed at Campo, Fla., by Brigadier General de Cardenas was captured by the Spanish through the treachery of Dr. Louis Mayolini, who accompanied the expedition.

Montana Reservation to Be Opened.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The land office commissioner has been informed that the Blackfeet Indian reservation in Montana has been surveyed and will be opened as soon as the report can be approved. The lands will be subject to entry only under the mining laws.

The Accident at the Circus, Which Caused So Much Comment in the City Saturday Night, Resulted in Nothing Serious.

The accident in the circus last Saturday night, by which Archie O'Brien fell while attempting to turn a somersault, did not result as seriously as many people who discussed it the next day believed.

The injured man was quickly removed from the ring, and no one could be found afterward who knew anything of his condition. It was said that his shoulder had been fractured. Another story stated that his neck had been broken, but no one knew the facts. Early yesterday the NEWS REVIEW wired H. L. Watkins, the press agent of the show, but he was busily engaged in Pittsburgh, and could not be located until a late hour in the afternoon. Then he sent the following message:

"Archie O'Brien, equestrian, who received a fall Saturday night, is all right and riding as usual today. He is slightly disfigured, but still in the ring."

Mr. Watkins clears up the mystery. O'Brien was not dangerously hurt, nor was he taken to Pittsburgh on the five o'clock train Sunday morning. The NEWS REVIEW stated last night that he was not seriously injured, but a local paper, depending entirely upon rumors of the street for its information, did its best to kill the plucky fellow.

Water Trustees Grant the Request of Barbers and Saloonists.

A short time ago the water works trustees issued an order that all saloonkeepers and barbers must put in their places of business meters and automatic stop cocks before Oct. 1.

This did not suit the parties most interested, and they submitted a lengthy petition to the trustees asking for an extension of time. At a meeting held last evening the trustees decided to grant the request provided that whenever parties was found wasting water they would be shut off until they complied with the rules.

CAPTURED BY BANDITS.

Son of a Wealthy Toledo Lawyer and His Traveling Companion Disappear in Europe—Young Lady Also Missing. Demands For Ransom.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 28.—Hon. E. W. Tolerton, one of the wealthiest attorneys in this city, is invoking the powers of this country and Switzerland to aid him in solving a peculiar mystery. Since last June his 20-year-old son, Harry, has been traveling in southern Europe with Prof. D. J. Holmes of Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa. On Sept. 8 a letter was received from them in which acknowledgment of the receipt of money was made. They stated that the sum sent would be sufficient to take them to Berlin, where they were to enter the university.

Nothing further was heard until the 22d, when a peremptory demand by cable came for $1,000. Mr. Tolerton, alarmed, at once cabled to enquire what was the matter, and also cabled the United States consul. The money was ordered forwarded to Cologne. The consul's reply was unsatisfactory, but that purporting to come from the tourists was of such a character as to at once convince the father that it came from neither his son nor the professor. On the 23d another demand came, and on the 26th, the last, requesting the immediate cabling of $500 and the balance by mail to Lucerne.

Meanwhile Mr. Tolerton cabled a relative at Leipsic, asking her to go to Lucerne at once and investigate. She cabled that she would go and again cabled when she would start, and that she would send a message as soon as she reached Lucerne. Since that time, although she should have been in Lucerne, at the latest two days ago, not the remotest trace can be secured of the young lady, Assistant Secretary of State Day wired Mr. Tolerton that he had cabled the United States minister at Berne and the consuls at Horgen and Lucerne to investigate fully.

Although hundreds of dollars have been spent cabling all over Switzerland, not a trace can be received of the missing tourists or the lady. It is believed they have fallen in with bandits or sharpers and are being held for the extortion of money, as Mr. Tolerton is known to be very wealthy.

A dispatch from Meadville, Pa., says: Prof. Daniel J. Holmes, reported missing in Switzerland, is a son of Dr. Daniel J. Holmes of Evanston, Ill., (Chicago address, "Halstead M. E. church.") He is also a nephew of Dr. David H. Wheeler, ex-president of Allegheny college, this city. He came to Allegheny college in September, 1886, occupying the Latin chair until early in June, when his health failing he arranged to make a European trip with Mr. Tolerton, a student, whose home is in Toledo, expecting to spend the coming winter in the vicinity of Rome. Dr. Holmes is supposed by his father to be in Italy at this time. His age is 25 years, and he is a young man of unusual education and ability, but rather delicate health.

Youngstown Eisteddfod Prizes.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 28.—The committee in charge of the Ivorites' Christmas eisteddfod has prepared its program, and money prizes to the amount of $500 will be given. The leading prize will be $300, to go to the choir of mixed voices, not less than 50 in number, best rendering "When His Loud Voice in Thunder Spoke." A prize of $100 will be given to the male choir of not less than 25 voices best rendering "Cambrian Song of Freedom," and a prize of $50 to the choir of male voices not less than 20 in number best rendering "Sherman's March to the Sea."

Another Fire Victim Found.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Sept. 28.—The body of William Brown, the third victim of the Bainbridge fire, was found, almost entirely consumed, in the cellar of the Beardsley block. His home was in Greenfield, and his distracted wife appeared at Bainbridge in search of him. It was not known until then that Brown was missing.

Lane Arrested For Embezzlement.

BELLEVILLE, O., Sept. 28.—Ex-Secretary Lane of the Savings, Building and Loan association of this city was arrested and put under $1,500 bonds on a charge of embezzlement. Dwight Harrison, deputy inspector of building and loans, found that Lane was short $10,675 in his accounts.

Senator Hanna's Anniversary.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Senator and Mrs. Hanna celebrated the thirty-third anniversary of their wedding. They gave a quiet dinner party to a few of their friends. The guests of honor were Dr. G. C. E. Weber, recently appointed consul at Nuremberg, Germany, and his wife.

Ohio Prohibits on the Ballot.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.—The Ohio Prohibition party, having secured more than 10,000 petitioners, was placed on the ballot sheet.

Animals and Steam Machinery.

That proverbially stupid animal, the ox, stands composedly on the rails without having any idea of the danger that threatens him. Larks often build their nests and rear their young under the switches of a railway over which heavy trains are constantly rolling, and swallows make their homes in engine houses.

TOPEKA, Sept. 28.—Judge John F. Williams has granted a perpetual injunction to prevent State Superintendent of Insurance Webb McCall from interfering with the business of the New York Life Insurance company.

The Boodle That Was Waged in the Fall of 1885.

MCLEAN WAS A CANDIDATE.

The Amounts Expended in Certain Counties Which Are Named.

"PERJURY, RASCALITY, BRIBERY."

"Mr. Boodle McLean" and the Way His First Senatorial Campaign Was Run.

John R. McLean a United States senator! A man who was guilty, as alleged at the time, of spending $200,000 in 1885 to fulfill the same ambition. It will probably occur to most people that no man can honestly expend $200,000 in a single campaign in Ohio to be elected to any office. And yet in the fall of 1885, after the October election of that year, it was openly charged that McLean expended this enormous sum in obtaining nominations, elections and crimes to hoist himself into the United States senate.

And he came within one vote of accomplishing his purpose!

Allen O. Myers, who is now McLean's confidential man at Democratic headquarters in Columbus, was defeated for re-election to the legislature that fall. In his book, "Bosses and Boodlers," Mr. Myers pays some attention to John R. McLean and his senatorial ambitions of the fall of 1885. The following extracts from Mr. Myers' book give the impression that Mr. Myers knew exactly what he was talking about when he penned an account of the political boodling and crimes of 1885 in his great and only historical work:

"Mr. McLean wanted to go to the United States senate."

"He was a candidate, and had the money and the power."

"There was one Democratic vote short in the legislature, and this chasm lay between McLean and his ambition. He had his agents out looking diligently for that vote, but they never found it."

"There is no doubt but that if a Democratic member could have secured a certificate of election by fraud, that Mr. McLean would have been willing to pay for it."

"Perhaps there was never a crime committed around which clustered so much perjury, rascality, treachery, bribery, double-dealing and cross purposes as distinguished the famous, or rather infamous, Columbus tally-sheet figures of 1885. The field of fiction does not afford an equal. The mind of man can not conceive such turpitude as was displayed but never revealed. It would take a volume to give the details, and a master to properly portray the plans and purposes of the two leading characters. We (that is, Mr. Myers) may be the one chosen for this work, but this is not the place."

The following article on this same subject was printed in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette on Dec. 15, 1885, and was dated at Columbus Dec. 14. It was written by a special correspondent of that influential newspaper. The article is as follows:

"There has been, since the October election, a vast deal of going to and fro and wandering up and down the state by the agents of Mr. Boodle. To some extent the nature of these pilgrimages has been made public, but in others it is hid under a bushel. There are certain preliminary things which should be understood preparatory to a full understanding of the whole matter. In a series of recent conversations with two or three gentlemen who are seized with a vast deal of information in the premises, I gain considerable insight into the nature of these comings and goings to and fro of the Boodle agencies. I don't mind imparting a modicum of that information."

"Mr. Boodle is not a man of ambition, in the usual and proper acceptance of that term, but he is a man of practical ideas. Two years ago he was immediately possessed of an idea he would buy the next senatorship upon the market himself. He opened a senatorial bank account and deposited something like $200,000 to its credit, feeling that that was not an extravagant price to pay for a toga, all things considered."

"I am told, and no doubt told truly, that he has checked very heavily against that deposit, and that the balance has run low, with no senatorial dividends in sight. Early last fall, while nominations were being made, he had to check out some $10,000 to get the right men nominated in certain counties and districts. After that it required a good many checks to secure their election, which wasn't secured in a fatal number of cases."

"The sum total of these checks outside of Hamilton county is set down

at $50,000, although the actual amount is said to be a little above that, owing to the fact that the enormous sums of $8,000 in Perry and $4,500 in Knox were required to elect McLean representatives there. The sum checked out previous to and including the day of election in Hamilton county is placed at a trifle less than $35,000.

"But when the election was over a new trouble arose. After counting in the whole delegation from Hamilton—which had been fully settled on previous to the day of election—Mr. Boodle was still short of votes in the legislature. To remove this trouble required more money. Some $3,000 or $4,000 was sent out in the hands of men who went into close counties to see what could be done in the way of counting and 'monkeying.' The sum of $5,000 was sent to Franklin county to pay for the unsuccessful forgery by which it was expected E. W. Young would secure a certificate upon the face of the returns. But the forgery failed."

"The sum of $2,500 was dispatched to Dayton, under the influence of which the ballot-box in one of the Soldiers' home precincts was opened and the tally-sheet and entire return placed in it and resealed. The idea was that the ballot-box could not be opened for 30 days, and the return being minus a Democratic senator would have been declared elected in place of Kemp. But certain exposures began to create alarm, and the Soldiers' home ballot-box was opened by the election officers and the return properly made to the clerk of the court, and Mr. Kemp was not counted out."

"On the night of the election, after the count had been pretty well ascertained in Cincinnati, it was discovered that the vote would have to be raised, and Ward Four was selected as a fruitful field. But somebody had discovered that prices were ruling high, and not a figure would be changed, not an extra sheet filled up for the poll-book, until $5,000 was forthcoming from Boodle's senatorial fund."

"Then, to cap the climax, one of Boodle's own employees reasoned out that his knowledge and information was valuable (that is, valuable to suppress), and demanded a $5,000 whack at the fund, and he got it, as well as made himself solid with the old man."

"It will be seen, therefore, that a big hole had been made in the original deposit, and no senatorship in sight yet. Assuming to own all the Democrats elected or said to be elected—which he did not—Mr. Boodle sent out his agents to buy a couple of Republicans. He offered big money, but they refused to take it. Then through certain of his Republican satellites in Cincinnati he beguiled half a dozen where the most industrious attempts were made to set up jobs on them, have them arrested in disreputable places and compel them to swallow Boodle under pain of exposure and the breaking up of their families. Of this part of the game I have some personal and pretty positive information. But the scheme failed, with a Boodle police to back it. The intended victims seem to have had some sort of a Providential warning."

"Mr. Boodle's money was gone and he wanted something to show for it. He was anxious that President Cleveland should know that he was a great man and a captain at home, so he sent out his agents on a surety come and go, and so arranged things that the Democratic legislative caucus shall give him the empty honor of the senatorial nomination. This, he claims, will constitute him the acknowledged and recognized Democratic leader of the state, and he is willing to spend further small sums of the senatorial boodle to capture the honor and give himself some importance in his fight against the administration. He will go into the caucus with a big following, and the Democratic party of Ohio is liable to have the final dishonor and disgrace put upon it of seeing Mr. Boodle the senatorial nominee and putting on his collar as a party."

"Siege has been laid to every Democratic senator and member to support Mr. Boodle in the caucus, and his agents will sleep with them from this on. He proposes to have his ownership of the Democratic party in Ohio openly and formally acknowledged, even if he did lose the great senatorial prize, to win which he made such lavish investments."

"But these same agents of Mr. Boodle are doing something else as they come and go. He is eminently practical, and he proposes to get back all the money he lost on the senatorship from the people of Cincinnati and the state at large. There are, no doubt, men whom Mr. Boodle could not buy to desert their party and make him United States senator, but who can be tempted by large pecuniary inducements to favor legislative jobberies which will fully recoup him for all the outlays he has made and give him a handsome margin of profit over and above."

"And unless I am much misinformed, Mr. Boodle's agent has found almost a half dozen of them, and has them under contract for the legislative engagement. There are one or two enormous local jobs which the gang—

A mother and her baby can have lots of fun together if they both are well and strong and hearty. Health makes them good-natured and happy; but all the delights of motherhood are lost if the mother is weak and ailing.

Mothers of young children are subject to a heavy draft upon their physical resources, and their health ought to be specially fortified, both before and after the baby is born. The most remarkable strength-sustainer for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It imparts health and endurance directly to the organs, appendages and nerve-centers concerned in maternity. It makes motherhood perfectly safe and nearly painless.

It protects the mother from relapse; makes her capable and cheerful; insures abundant nourishment for the baby; and completely reinforces the vitality of both mother and child.

It is the only scientific medicine devised by an educated experienced physician for the express purpose of strengthening and healing woman's special organism.

The reasons why it is the most perfect and successful remedy of its kind in the world are more fully explained in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," which will be sent free, paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Or handsomely cloth-bound for 31 stamps.

Mrs. F. B. Cannings, of No. 4320 Humphrey St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am now a happy mother of a fine, healthy baby girl. I feel that your 'Favorite Prescription' and little 'Pelllets' have done me more good than anything I have ever taken. Three months previous to my confinement I began using your medicine. I took three bottles of the 'Prescription.' Consequences were I was only in labor forty-five minutes. With my first baby I suffered 12 hours, then had to lose him. He only lived 12 hours. For two years I suffered untold agony, and had two miscarriages. The 'Favorite Prescription' saved both my child and myself."

During the Civil War, Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 305 Lisbon street, enlisted and served three years in the 43d Ohio Infantry. From the exposure during the war he attributes his late trouble which bothered him more or less ever since some attacks being much worse than others. "Severe aching," says he, "and weakness in the loins so bad at times that I could scarcely get around, and muscular rheumatism of recent years, all seemed to have centered in my kidneys. In the mornings when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time, and my nervous system became affected, causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the review, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and took them. The first few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual, but continued as the medicine got more thoroughly in the system. and there are some Cincinnati republicans in it—will put through this winter, to which the $4,000,000 job is hardly a marker; and the bungles of these jobs are to open into Mr. Boodle's pocket. You will see them popping up in due time.

"Then the whole system of the public works of the state is to be so quartered, with Mr. Boodle at the head of the syndicate that is to divide and distribute the proceeds. The original object of Mr. Boodle's agents was to corrupt enough Republicans to elect him to the senate of the United States. Failing in this, they have arranged to give him the honor of a caucus nomination."

"And to reimburse him for his extraordinary outlays they are now, and will continue, under personal supervision and direction, 'fixing' members of the legislature to support a series of jobs out of which he can make a good deal more money than he has expended, and tighten his grip upon the public throat."

"That is the true story of the coming to and fro of the agents of Mr. Boodle McLean."

A dispatch from Meadville, Pa., says: Prof. Daniel J. Holmes, reported missing in Switzerland, is a son of Dr. Daniel J. Holmes of Evanston, Ill. (Chicago address, "Halstead M. E. church.") He is also a nephew of Dr. David H. Wheeler, ex-president of Allegheny college, this city. He came to Allegheny college in September, 1886, occupying the Latin chair until early in June, when his health failing he arranged to make a European trip with Mr. Tolerton, a student, whose home is in Toledo, expecting to spend the coming winter in the vicinity of Rome. Dr. Holmes is supposed by his father to be in Italy at this time. His age is 25 years, and he is a young man of unusual education and ability, but rather delicate health.

Youngstown Elstedford Prizes.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 28.—The committee in charge of the Ivories' Christmas elstedford has prepared its program, and money prizes to the amount of $500 will be given. The leading prize will be $300, to go to the choir of mixed voices, not less than 50 in number, best rendering "When His Loud Voice in Thunder Spoke." A prize of $100 will be given to the male choir of not less than 25 voices best rendering "Cambrian Song of Freedom," and a prize of $50 to the choir of male voices not less than 20 in number best rendering "Sherman's March to the Sea."

Another Fire Victim Found.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Sept. 28.—The body of William Brown, the third victim of the Bainbridge fire, was found, almost entirely consumed, in the cellar of the Beardsley block. His home was in Greenfield, and his distracted wife appeared at Bainbridge in search of him. It was not known until then that Brown was missing.

Lane Arrested For Embezzlement.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Sept. 28.—Ex-Secretary Lane of the Savings, Building and Loan association of this city was arrested and put under $1,500 bonds on a charge of embezzlement. Dwight Harrison, deputy inspector of of building and loans, found that Lane was short $10,675 in his accounts.

Senator Hanna's Anniversary.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Senator and Mrs. Hanna celebrated the thirty-third anniversary of their wedding. They gave a quiet dinner party to a few of their friends. The guests of honor were Dr. G. C. E. Weber, recently appointed consul at Nuremberg, Germany, and his wife.

Ohio Prohibits on the Ballot.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.—The Ohio Prohibition party, having secured more than 10,000 petitioners, was placed on the ballot sheet.

Animals and Steam Machinery.

That proverbially stupid animal, the ox, stands composedly on the rails without having any idea of the danger that threatens him. Dogs run among the wheels of a departing railway train without suffering any injury, and birds seem to have a peculiar delight in the steam engine. Larks often build their nests and rear their young under the switches of a railway over which heavy trains are constantly rolling, and swallows make their homes in engine houses.

Insurance Commissioner Enjoined.

TOPEKA, Sept. 28.—Judge John F. Williams has granted a perpetual injunction to prevent State Superintendent of Insurance Webb McCall from interfering with the business of the New York Life Insurance company.

$200 000.

The Boodle That Was Waged in the Fall of 1885.

M'LEAN WAS A CANDIDATE.

The Amounts Expended in Certain Counties Which Are Named.

"PERJURY, RASCALITY, BRIBERY."

"Mr. Boodle McLean" and the Way His First Senatorial Campaign Was Run.

John R. McLean a United States senator! A man who was guilty, as alleged at the time, of spending $200,000 in 1885 to fulfill the same ambition. It will probably occur to most people that no man can honestly expend $200,000 in a single campaign in Ohio to be elected to any office. And yet in the fall of 1885, after the October election of that year, 't was openly charged that McLean expended this enormous sum in obtaining nominations, elections and crimes to hoist himself into the United States senate. And he came within one vote of accomplishing his purpose!

Allen O. Myers, who is now McLean's confidential man at Democratic headquarters in Columbus, was defeated for re-election to the legislature that fall. In his book, "Bosses and Boodlers," Mr. Myers pays some attention to John R. McLean and his senatorial ambitions of the fall of 1885. The following extracts from Mr. Myers' book give the impression that Mr. Myers knew exactly what he was talking about when he penned an account of the political boodling and crimes of 1885 in his great and only historical work:

"Mr. McLean wanted to go to the United States senate."

"He was a candidate, and had the money and the power."

"There was one Democratic vote short in the legislature, and this chasm lay between McLean and his ambition. He had his agents out looking diligently for that vote, but they never found it."

"There is no doubt but that if a Democratic member could have secured a certificate of election by fraud, that Mr. McLean would have been willing to pay for it."

"Perhaps there was never a crime committed around which clustered so much perjury, rascality, treachery, bribery, double-dealing and cross purposes as distinguished the famous, or rather infamous, Columbus tally-sheet figures of 1885. The field of fiction does not afford an equal. The mind of man can not conceive such turpitude as was displayed but never revealed. It would take a volume to give the details, and a master to properly portray the plans and purposes of the two leading characters. We (that is, Mr. Myers) may be the one chosen for this work, but this is not the place."

The following article on this same subject was printed in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette on Dec. 15, 1885, and was dated at Columbus Dec. 14. It was written by a special correspondent of that influential newspaper. The article is as follows:

"There has been, since the October election, a vast deal of going to and fro and wandering up and down the state by the agents of Mr. Boodle. To some extent the nature of these pilgrimages has been made public, but in others it is hid under a bushel. There are certain preliminary things which should be understood preparatory to a full understanding of the whole matter. In a series of recent conversations with two or three gentlemen who are seized with a vast deal of information in the premises, I gain considerable insight into the nature of these comings and goings to and fro of the Boodle agencies. I don't mind imparting a modicum of that information."

"Mr. Boodle is not a man of ambition, in the usual and proper acceptance of that term, but he is a man of practical ideas. Two years ago he was immediately possessed of an idea he would buy the next senatorship upon the market himself. He opened a senatorial bank account and deposited something like $200,000 to its credit, feeling that that was not an extravagant price to pay for a toga, all things considered."

"I am told, and no doubt told truly, that he has checked very heavily against that deposit, and that the balance has run low, with no senatorial dividends in sight. Early last fall, while nominations were being made, he had to check out some $10,000 to get the right men nominated in certain counties and districts. After that it required a good many checks to secure their election, which wasn't secured in a fatal number of cases."

"The sum total of these checks outside of Hamilton county is set down

at $50,000, although the actual amount is said to be a little above that, owing to the fact that the enormous sums of $8,000 in Perry and $4,500 in Knox were required to elect McLean representatives there. The sum checked out previous to and including the day of election in Hamilton county is placed at a trifle less than $35,000.

"But when the election was over a new trouble arose. After counting in the whole delegation from Hamilton—which had been fully settled on previous to the day of election—Mr. Boodle was still short of votes in the legislature. To remove this trouble required more money. Some $3,000 or $4,000 was sent out in the hands of men who went into close counties to see what could be done in the way of counting and 'monkeying.' The sum of $5,000 was sent to Franklin county to pay for the unsuccessful forgery by which it was expected E. W. Young would secure a certificate upon the face of the returns. But the forgery failed."

"The sum of $2,500 was dispatched to Dayton, under the influence of which the ballot-box in one of the Soldiers' home precincts was opened and the tally-sheet and entire return placed in it and resealed. The idea was that the ballot-box could not be opened for 30 days, and the return being minus a Democratic senator would have been declared elected in place of Kemp. But certain exposures began to create alarm, and the Soldiers' home ballot-box was opened by the election officers and the return properly made to the clerk of the court, and Mr. Kemp was not counted out."

"On the night of the election, after the count had been pretty well ascertained in Cincinnati, it was discovered that the vote would have to be raised, and Ward Four was selected as a fruitful field. But somebody had discovered that prices were ruling high, and not a figure would be changed, not an extra sheet filled up for the poll-book, until $5,000 was forthcoming from Boodle's senatorial fund."

"Then, to cap the climax, one of Boodle's own employees reasoned out that his knowledge and information was valuable (that is, valuable to suppress), and demanded a $5,000 whack at the fund, and he got it, as well as made himself solid with the old man."

"It will be seen, therefore, that a big hole had been made in the original deposit, and no senatorship in sight yet. Assuming to own all the Democrats elected or said to be elected—which he did not—Mr. Boodle sent out his agents to buy a couple of Republicans. He offered big money, but they refused to take it. Then through certain of his Republican satellites in Cincinnati he beguiled half a dozen Republican members to that city, where the most industrious attempts were made to set up jobs on them, have them arrested in disreputable places and compel them to swallow Boodle under pain of exposure and the breaking up of their families. Of this part of the game I have some personal and pretty positive information. But the scheme failed, with a Boodle police to back it. The intended victims seem to have had some sort of a Providential warning."

"Mr. Boodle's money was gone and he wanted something to show for it. He was anxious that President Cleveland should know that he was a great man and a captain at home, so he sent out his agents on a sure to come and go, and so arranged things that the Democratic legislative caucus shall give him the empty honor of the senatorial nomination. This, he claims, will constitute him the acknowledged and recognized Democratic leader of the state, and he is willing to spend further small sums of the senatorial boodle to capture the honor and give himself some importance in his fight against the administration. He will go into the caucus with a big following, and the Democratic party of Ohio is liable to have the final dishonor and disgrace put upon it of seeing Mr. Boodle the senatorial nominee and putting on his collar as a party."

"Siege has been laid to every Democratic senator and member to support Mr. Boodle in the caucus, and his agents will sleep with them from this on. He proposes to have his ownership of the Democratic party in Ohio openly and formally acknowledged, even if he did lose the great senatorial prize, to win which he made such lavish investments."

"But these same agents of Mr. Boodle are doing something else as they come and go. He is eminently practical, and he proposes to get back all the money he lost on the senatorship from the people of Cincinnati and the state at large. There are, no doubt, men whom Mr. Boodle could not buy to desert their party and make him United States senator, but who can be tempted by large pecuniary inducements to favor legislative jobberies which will fully recoup him for all the outlays he has made and give him a handsome margin of profit over and above."

"And unless I am much misinformed, Mr. Boodle's agent has found almost a half dozen of them, and has them under contract for the legislative engagement. There are one or two enormous local jobs which the gang—

A mother and her baby can have lots of fun together if they both are well and strong and hearty. Health makes them good-natured and happy; but all the delights of motherhood are lost if the mother is weak and ailing.

Mothers of young children are subject to a heavy draft upon their physical resources, and their health ought to be specially fortified, both before and after the baby is born. The most remarkable strength-sustainer for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It imparts health and endurance directly to the organs, appendages and nerve-centers concerned in maternity. It makes motherhood perfectly safe and nearly painless.

It protects the mother from relapse; makes her capable and cheerful; insures abundant nourishment for the baby; and completely reinforces the vitality of both mother and child.

It is the only scientific medicine devised by an educated experienced physician for the express purpose of strengthening and healing woman's special organism.

The reasons why it is the most perfect and successful remedy of its kind in the world are more fully explained in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," which will be sent free, paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Or handsomely cloth-bound for 31 stamps.

Mrs. F. B. Cannings, of No. 4320 Humphrey St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am now a happy mother of a fine, healthy baby girl. I feel that your 'Favorite Prescription' and little 'Pelle's' have done me more good than anything I have ever taken. Three months previous to my confinement I began using your medicine. I took three bottles of the 'Prescription.' Consequences were I was only in labor forty-five minutes. With my first baby I suffered no hours, then had to lose him. He only lived 12 hours. For two years I suffered untold agony, and had two miscarriages. The 'Favorite Prescription' saved both my child and myself."

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing about Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in East Liverpool, Not in Buffalo or Boston. You are asked to investigate it; Asked to believe a citizen's word. To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home That obtains resident advocates, Is more worthy of confidence Than a far-off foreign article, Testified to by unknown people.

During the Civil War, Mr. Wm. Auden, son, of 305 Lisbon street, enlisted and served three years in the 43d Ohio Infantry. From the exposure during the war he attributes his late trouble which bothered him more or less ever since some attacks being much worse than others. "Severe aching," says he, "and weakness in the loins so bad at times that I could scarcely get around, and muscular rheumatism of recent years, all seemed to have centered in my kidneys. In the mornings when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time, and my nervous system became affected, causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the review, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and took them. The first few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual, but continued as the medicine got more thoroughly in the system. I firmly believe Doan's Kidney Pills will in every case, as they did in mine, prove the justness of the claims made for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

and there are some Cincinnati republicans in it—will put through this winter, to which the $1,000,000 job is hardly a market; and the bungholes of these jobs are to open into Mr. Boodle's pocket. You will see them popping up in due time.

"Then the whole system of the public works of the state is to be so quartered, with Mr. Boodle at the head of the syndicate that is to divide and distribute the proceeds. The original object of Mr. Boodle's agents was to corrupt enough Republicans to elect him to the senate of the United States. Failing in this, they have arranged to give him the honor of a caucus nomination."

"And to reimburse him for his extraordinary outlays they are now, and will continue, under personal supervision and direction, 'fixing' members of the legislature to support a series of jobs out of which he can make a good deal more money than he has expended, and tighten his grip upon the public throat."

"That is the true story of the coming to and fro of the agents of Mr. Boodle McLean."

WELLSVILLE.

THE OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Many Men Are Working In Wellsville.

TRADE IS GETTING BETTER

A start at the Shops—Good Time on a Tandem—The Health of the Town Is Good. Wilber Snediker Much Better—All the News.

Wellsville has no cause for serious complaint. The prospects for the winter are good. The rolling mill is making the best run it has ever made, Lythe's plant will start soon for a good run, the stock is low and the demand for sewer pipe very good. The Kenilworth brick plant on the Virginia side has been in operation for a week or more and a large number of men are employed. The Pioneer will start some time this week, the Vulcan and Buckeye are doing good business. Patterson's pottery has been running steadily during the summer, and trade is so good that no traveling salesmen have been sent out. As soon as his affairs can be adjusted the pottery owned by Jas. H. Baum will again be in operation. Apparently prosperity has come to Wellsville.

Looked Like a Good Dollar.

A young woman walked into a store yesterday, and in paying for a purchase gave a dollar to the proprietor. He took it and later when making his deposit at a local bank handed it to the banker to inspect. He pronounced it spurious. It The cashier looked carefully at the coin, and then pronounced it counterfeit. It is perhaps the most dangerous piece of bad coin ever seen in Wellsville. Its design is perfect, and the ring all that could be desired. Only when the milling is carefully examined can the deception be detected.

Began Work.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg machine shops went on five hours time this morning. A slight rush of work was the cause, and it is not known how long it will last. Workmen are still busy whitewashing the interior of the shop.

The shopmen are all wondering what the appropriation for the coming month will be. There are indications which point to a much better run than that of last winter. It is believed that the company have got down to business in earnest.

The Town Is Well.

Health Officer Warren says that Wellsville is very well at present. Almost all the residences which have contained contagious diseases have been fumigated, but no new cases of diphtheria or scarlet fever have developed. It is believed that the town will be comparatively free of contagion now that a number of disease-breeding spots have been cleaned.

Much Better.

It has been reported that Wilber Snediker was so ill that he could not recover, and the story spread to Liverpool, where he has many friends. There is no truth whatever in the statement. Instead of being dangerously ill, he is getting along very well, and will soon be attending to his duties.

Good Time.

J. G. Stevenson and Reverend Lowry made a good run on a tandem yesterday. They started at 9 o'clock in the morning, and made the round trip to Steubenville by way of Somerset and Richmond, a distance of 64 miles, reaching home at 4 in the afternoon. They had but one accident and that amounted to nothing.

The News of Wellsville.

Sammy Brobaker will attend a banquet to be given next Thursday evening by his company to all the district agents.

Miss Grace Doughaday, of Nevada street, who has been ill with scarlet fever is able to sit up.

John Harbough, of Lisbon, is in town today.

J. W. Aldeck, of Cleveland, was here yesterday on business.

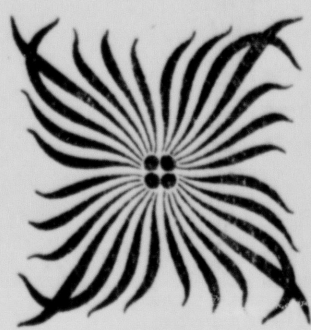

H. B. Amos, of Canton, and D. F. A. Grubbe, of Akron, are here on business.

Fred Eckfeld and family left today for Pittsburg where they will visit the Wells families. They will be absent a week or more.

WEALTH OF ANCIENTS

THE ENORMOUS SUMS THEY ACCUMULATED AND SPENT.

Potentates Who Disposed of Annual Incomes Reaching into the Millions—Immense Works of Art and Skill Carried Out by These Rulers.

It would be polite fiction to assert that everybody who looks upon the great monuments of antiquity—the pyramids or the Coliseum, for example—thinks of the cost and wonders where the money came from. But when, by chance, a learned person suggests the inquiry only an idiot fails to be struck for a moment. It is so curious that while modern states, with all the accumulated wealth of the antique world at their back, and the treasures of Mexico, California, Australia, the Transvaal in addition, have to consider ways and means with anxious care before building a government office, the early monarchs raised palaces and temples by the hundred at will. The thoughtless have a ready explanation—slave labor did it all. But, in the first place, the slaves had to be procured somehow—by war or purchase—and either means was expensive. There is a reply to that objection equally facile—the war paid its own cost in loot. But this only leads us a step backward. The loot must have been enormous, and where did it come from? In the second place, those slaves had to be fed, and, however cheap their rations, the sum total must have been immense when such vast numbers were employed.

But captives of war could only do rough work. They might build the Coliseum or the pyramids, directed by an army of skilled craftsmen. But the sculpture of Assyrian palaces, the painting of Egyptian temples and tombs, must have been effected by artists, probably free, or, if slaves, trained at great expense.

When we read that the city of Dursargunu was created on an empty plain, by order of the king, in eight years, standing on a mound of brick 700 acres in area, its walls 60 feet high, broad enough for seven chariots to run abreast, and faced with stone, all the evidence is needed to make us credit the story, but the marvel becomes far greater when we observe the miles of sculptured stone that decorated Sargon's palace with colossal bulls on each side of every doorway. No unpracticed hand carved those reliefs. They are the work of artists. Were all the sculptors of the empire summoned to this task, to be finished in eight years? But the tombs of private individuals in Egypt must have been painted, at the cost of the family, by masters of the craft. Animals and birds show a skill not to be surpassed. We may be quite sure that work like this was highly paid—by comparison, that is, with slave labor.

So the question recurs, How much gold and silver did these ancients possess? In the Roman time men appear to have been struck with the evidence of vast wealth displayed by their predecessors, such as the Caesars could not equal. But they escaped the difficulty with ease by granting them riches literally beyond the dreams of avarice. Dr. Arbuthnot, for example, has patiently reckoned up the amount of treasure heaped upon the pile of Sardanapalus by Athenæus, and he finds that it came to £16,953,120,000 in our money at the least, for if a computation which Athenæus himself suggests be admitted the total would be about twice as large. After this the statement of Diodorus—that the Pharaohs counted upon a revenue of £188,000,000 annually from gold mines in the Bishari desert and drew an equal sum by taxation—is very moderate. But when the same most valuable writer—who talked nonsense only when he repeated the words of other men—comes to deal with Babylon he lets himself go. There was a gold statue of Zeus (the Greek assigned his own gods to Babylon as usual) 40 feet high; of Rhea equally tall, with a lion of gold at each knee and silver serpents to correspond; Juno weighed 500 talents; in front of her was a golden table, 500 talents, upon which stood two cups, 300 talents each, and three bowls, 1,200, 600 and 600 talents. These ornaments of a single temple represented about £11,000,000, and the building was covered with gold plates.

It has been calculated that the statue of Nebuchadnezzar mentioned in Daniel would be worth £3,500,000; that the treasure left by David amounted to £150,000,000 in gold, £200,000,000 in silver, but the value of the Hebrew talent is doubtful. We are told that Pythæus, seemingly a private gentleman of Phrygia, entertained Xerxes and all his army, "with most sumptuous feasts," too—and then had £4,770,000 left, or, as some compute, £3,600,000. The tale of Alexander's loot is most wonderful of all, and that is historic. If we entertain doubts, it is futile to express them when the statements are so clear and the means of disproving them absent. In the Persian camp, then, and at Babylon Alexander secured something like £70,000,000; at Persepolis, £18,000,000; at Pasargurda, a trifle of £9,000,000; at Ecbatana, £270,000,000—say £550,000,000. And Darius carried off £9,000,000, which his murderers seized.—London Standard.

APPLAUDS THEIR UNION.

Mayor Harrison of Chicago Upholds the Street Railway Employees.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Mayor Harrison said, in speaking of the threatened strike of the employees of the City Railway company:

"If it is true that these men were discharged because they were active in organizing a union for their protection, I believe that public sentiment should support the street car men in the event of a strike being declared. There is a great deal of talk of the railroads combining in their own interests, and I see no reason why the men should not have the same right to organize."

Action may be taken by the city council that will result in the various street car companies stopping the carrying of United States mail.

The point is made that as mail is freight, and there is nothing in the franchises of the roads conveying authority to carry freight of any sort.

At the weekly meeting of the Congressional ministers a resolution was passed expressing sympathy for the employees.

THE CREW IN IRONS.

British Bark Sailed With a Number of Mutineers From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The British bark Cloncaid sailed for England with part of her crew in irons and locked up in the fore-castle. She was towed to sea by a tug which had on board a number of longshoremen who were to set the vessels' sails outside.

The majority of the Cloncaid's crew are men who mutinied on the ship Incheape Rock on her recent voyage from Swansea, and they were locked up until the bark got under way in order to prevent them from taking "French leave" after having received their advance pay.

Shot a Girl and Suicided.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Michael Simmonds, a railroad brakeman, aged 28, shot and tried to kill his sweetheart, Miss Jennie Long, aged 19, and committed suicide. She repulsed his attentions. She may recover.

Peru Must Pay the Claim.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The state department has taken the stand that Peru must pay an indemnity to Mr. McCord, an American engineer who was imprisoned and fined during a Peruvian revolution.

Care's Slave.

It was the budding Maytime,
The white loughs overhead.
"Oh, give to me some playtime,
Good Master Care," I said.
I saw his head begin to shake.
"Not now. Just wait and see.
I'll give you a holiday
When planting's done," said he.

It was the glowing summer,
How cool the woodland's shade!
Again an eager comer,
"Oh, give today!" I prayed.
Old Master Care, his forehead knit:
"The grass is ripe to mow.
Work on till haying time is past,
And then I'll let you go."

It was the glad September.
The maple leaves were red.
"Oh, Master Care, remember
You promised me," I said.
"And you will find," he answered me,
"I'll keep my promise true,
And you may sport when harvest's done,
With nothing else to do."

Now winter winds are blowing.
How weak I feel and old!
And by the hearth bright glowing
I shiver with the cold.
And Care sits down beside me
And counts up, one by one,
The tasks that I have done amiss,
Or I have left undone,
While I, low muttering to myself,
Wished I had laughed and sung
And had my share of honest joy
When I was strong and young.

A Safe Place.

Father Hugh Lagan of San Rafael is a pious priest and an excellent raconteur. His reverence relates that he was called in recently to administer the last rites of mother church to a dying sinner, who, like himself, was a native of the Emerald Isle.

"I have but one request to make, father," gasped the dying penitent.

"What is it, my son?" inquired the priest.

"That when I am dead, father, you will put me to rest in the Hebrew cemetery."

"And what for?" asked Father Lagan.

"Because, your reverence," moaned the sick man, "it is the last place on the face of the globe where the devil would look for an Irishman."—London Figaro.

Patterson's pottery has been running steadily during the summer, and trade is so good that no traveling salesmen have been sent out. As soon as his affairs can be adjusted the pottery owned by Jas. H. Baum will again be in operation. Apparently prosperity has come to Wellsville.

Looked Like a Good Dollar.

A young woman walked into a store yesterday, and in paying for a purchase gave a dollar to the proprietor. He took it and later when making his deposit at a local bank handed it to the banker to inspect. He pronounced it spurious. It The cashier looked carefully at the coin, and then pronounced it counterfeit. It is perhaps the most dangerous piece of bad coin ever seen in Wellsville. Its design is perfect, and the ring all that could be desired. Only when the milling is carefully examined can the deception be detected.

Began Work.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg machine shops went on five hours time this morning. A slight rush of work was the cause, and it is not known how long it will last. Workmen are still busy whitewashing the interior of the shop.

The shopmen are all wondering what the appropriation for the coming month will be. There are indications which point to a much better run than that of last winter. It is believed that the company have got down to business in earnest.

The Town Is Well.

Health Officer Warren says that Wellsville is very well at present. Almost all the residences which have contained contagious diseases have been fumigated, but no new cases of diphtheria or scarlet fever have developed. It is believed that the town will be comparatively free of contagion now that a number of disease-breeding spots have been cleaned.

Much Better.

It has been reported that Wilber Snediker was so ill that he could not recover, and the story spread to Liverpool, where he has many friends. There is no truth whatever in the statement. Instead of being dangerously ill, he is getting along very well, and will soon be attending to his duties.

Good Time.

J. G. Stevenson and Reverend Lowry made a good run on a tandem yesterday. They started at 9 o'clock in the morning, and made the round trip to Steubenville by way of Somerset and Richmond, a distance of 64 miles, reaching home at 4 in the afternoon. They had but one accident and that amounted to nothing.

The News of Wellsville.

Sammy Brobaker will attend a banquet to be given next Thursday evening by his company to all the district agents.

Miss Grace Doughaday, of Nevada street, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is able to sit up.

John Harbough, of Lisbon, is in town today.

J. W. Aldeck, of Cleveland, was here yesterday on business.

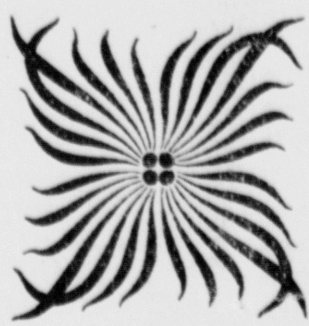

H. B. Amos, of Canton, and D. F. A. Grubbe, of Akron, are here on business.

Fred Eckfeld and family left today for Pittsburg where they will visit the Wells families. They will be absent a week or more.

WEALTH OF ANCIENTS

THE ENORMOUS SUMS THEY ACCUMULATED AND SPENT.

Potentates Who Disposed of Annual Incomes Reaching Into the Millions—Immense Works of Art and Skill Carried Out by These Rulers.

It would be polite fiction to assert that everybody who looks upon the great monuments of antiquity—the pyramids or the Coliseum, for example—thinks of the cost and wonders where the money came from. But when, by chance, a learned person suggests the inquiry only an idiot fails to be struck for a moment. It is so curious that while modern states, with all the accumulated wealth of the antique world at their back, and the treasures of Mexico, California, Australia, the Transvaal in addition, have to consider ways and means with anxious care before building a government office, the early monarchs raised palaces and temples by the hundred at will. The thoughtless have a ready explanation—slave labor did it all. But, in the first place, the slaves had to be procured somehow—by war or purchase—and either means was expensive. There is a reply to that objection equally facile—the war paid its own cost in loot. But this only leads us a step backward. The loot must have been enormous, and where did it come from? In the second place, those slaves had to be fed, and, however cheap their rations, the sum total must have been immense when such vast numbers were employed.

But captives of war could only do rough work. They might build the Coliseum or the pyramids, directed by an army of skilled craftsmen. But the sculpture of Assyrian palaces, the painting of Egyptian temples and tombs, must have been effected by artists, probably free, or, if slaves, trained at great expense.

When we read that the city of Dursargunn was created on an empty plain, by order of the king, in eight years, standing on a mound of brick 700 acres in area, its walls 60 feet high, broad enough for seven chariots to run abreast, and faced with stone, all the evidence is needed to make us credit the story, but the marvel becomes far greater when we observe the miles of sculptured stone that decorated Sargon's palace with colossal bulls on each side of every doorway. No unpracticed hand carved those reliefs. They are the work of artists. Were all the sculptors of the empire summoned to this task, to be finished in eight years? But the tombs of private individuals in Egypt must have been painted, at the cost of the family, by masters of the craft. Animals and birds show a skill not to be surpassed. We may be quite sure that work like this was highly paid—by comparison, that is, with slave labor.

So the question recurs, How much gold and silver did these ancients possess? In the Roman time men appear to have been struck with the evidence of vast wealth displayed by their predecessors, such as the Caesars could not equal. But they escaped the difficulty with ease by granting them riches literally beyond the dreams of avarice. Dr. Arbuthnot, for example, has patiently reckoned up the amount of treasure heaped upon the pile of Sardanapalus by Athenæus, and he finds that it came to £16,953,120,000 in our money at the least, for if a computation which Athenæus himself suggests be admitted the total would be about twice as large. After this the statement of Diodorus—that the Pharaohs counted upon a revenue of £138,000,000 annually from gold mines in the Bishari desert and drew an equal sum by taxation—is very moderate. But when the same most valuable writer—who talked nonsense only when he repeated the words of other men—comes to deal with Babylon he lets himself go. There was a gold statue of Zeus (the Greek assigned his own gods to Babylon as usual) 40 feet high; of Rhea equally tall, with a lion of gold at each knee and silver serpents to correspond; Juno weighed 500 talents; in front of her was a golden table, 500 talents, upon which stood two cups, 300 talents each, and three bowls, 1,200, 600 and 600 talents. These ornaments of a single temple represented about £11,000,000, and the building was covered with gold plates.

It has been calculated that the statue of Nebuchadnezzar mentioned in Daniel would be worth £3,500,000; that the treasure left by David amounted to £150,000,000 in gold, £200,000,000 in silver, but the value of the Hebrew talent is doubtful. We are told that Pythæus, seemingly a private gentleman of Phrygia, entertained Xerxes and all his army, "with most sumptuous feasts," too—and then had £4,770,000 left, or, as some compute, £3,600,000. The tale of Alexander's loot is most wonderful of all, and that is historic. If we entertain doubts, it is futile to express them when the statements are so clear and the means of disproving them absent. In the Persian camp, then, and at Babylon Alexander secured something like £70,000,000; at Persepolis, £18,000,000; at Pasagurda, a trifle of £9,000,000; at Ecbatana, £270,000,000—say £550,000,000. And Darius carried off £9,000,000, which his murderers seized.—London Standard.

APPLAUDS THEIR UNION.

Mayor Harrison of Chicago Upholds the Street Railway Employees.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Mayor Harrison said, in speaking of the threatened strike of the employes of the City Railway company:

"If it is true that these men were discharged because they were active in organizing a union for their protection, I believe that public sentiment should support the street car men in the event of a strike being declared. There is a great deal of talk of the railroads combining in their own interests, and I see no reason why the men should not have the same right to organize."

Action may be taken by the city council that will result in the various street car companies stopping the carrying of United States mail.

The point is made that as mail is freight, and there is nothing in the franchises of the roads conveying authority to carry freight of any sort.

At the weekly meeting of the Congregational ministers a resolution was passed expressing sympathy for the employes.

THE CREW IN IRONS.

British Bark Sailed With a Number of Mutineers From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The British bark Cloncaid sailed for England with part of her crew in irons and locked up in the fore-castle. She was towed to sea by a tug which had on board a number of longshoremen who were to set the vessels' sails outside.

The majority of the Cloncaid's crew are men who mutinied on the ship Incheape Rock on her recent voyage from Swansea, and they were locked up until the bark got under way in order to prevent them from taking "French leave" after having received their advance pay.

Shot a Girl and Suicided.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Michael Simmonds, a railroad brakeman, aged 28, shot and tried to kill his sweetheart, Miss Jennie Long, aged 19, and committed suicide. She repulsed his attentions. She may recover.

Peru Must Pay the Claim.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The state department has taken the stand that Peru must pay an indemnity to Mr. McCord, an American engineer who was imprisoned and fined during a Peruvian revolution.

Care's Slave.

It was the budding Maytime,
The white loughs overhead.
"Oh, give to me some playtime,
Good Master Care," I said.
I saw his head begin to shake.
"Not now. Just wait and see.
I'll give you a holiday
When planting's done," said he.

It was the glowing summer,
How cool the woodland's shade!
Again an eager comer,
"Oh, give today!" I prayed.
Old Master Care, his forehead knit:
"The grass is ripe to mow.
Work on till haying time is past,
And then I'll let you go."

It was the glad September.
The maple leaves were red.
"Oh, Master Care, remember
You promised me," I said.
"And you will find," he answered me,
"I'll keep my promise true,
And you may sport when harvest's done,
With nothing else to do."

Now winter winds are blowing.
How weak I feel and old!
And by the hearth bright glowing
I shiver with the cold.
And Care sits down beside me
And counts up, one by one,
The tasks that I have done amiss,
Or I have left undone,
While I, low muttering to myself,
Wished I had laughed and sung
And had my share of honest joy
When I was strong and young.
—London Mail.

A Safe Place.

Father Hugh Lagan of San Rafael is a pious priest and an excellent raconteur. His reverence relates that he was called in recently to administer the last rites of mother church to a dying sinner, who, like himself, was a native of the Emerald Isle.

"I have but one request to make, father," gasped the dying penitent. "What is it, my son?" inquired the priest.

"That when I am dead, father, you will put me to rest in the Hebrew cemetery."

"And what for?" asked Father Lagan.

"Because, your reverence," moaned the sick man, "it is the last place on the face of the globe where the devil would look for an Irishman."—London Figaro.

columns of legal advertising each year, has incurred the enmity of the supporters of certain political leaders because it dares to call these men to account, and demand that they show cause why they are permitted year in and year out to control the politics of this county.

A Republican newspaper is not of necessity a supporter of any gang or combination. It is a publication which devotes its energies and influence to the advancement of the Republican party. Planting itself firmly on the national, state and county platforms, it goes over the heads of the local leaders and fights the battle for the good of the party as a whole. It cannot lend its aid in the carrying out of petty plans for the personal advancement of this ward politician or that central committeeman. It cannot take part in the feuds and fights engendered by the ambitions of this man and the unscrupulous schemes of that one. When it does, it becomes the pet of an individual and looks after his interests regardless of the interests of the majority, sacrificing principle in order that he may be advanced. Such newspapers are the curse of Republicanism. They do more harm than good; they drive away the honest man who would vote his principles at the polls, and substitute the heeler and ringster, who cares much more for himself than he does for the party.

A Note of Warning.

A number of the remedies commonly used for throat trouble have but little merit. The indiscriminate and careless use of some of them is attended with positive danger.

As a prominent example, Chlorate of Potash probably does a great deal more harm than good. Many people, when suffering from sore throat and like troubles, carry crystals or tablets of Chlorate of Potash in their pockets, and eat them almost like candy. Chlorate of Potash has a decided direct action on the kidneys and its unwise use in frequent and large doses irritates these organs and leads to really serious results, especially so in children.

Some may think this is sounding a false and needless alarm but as a single proof we wish to state that we have before us the November, 1894, copy of the Indiana Medical Journal, wherein are reported two deaths clearly due directly to this habit of using Chlorate of Potash with no regard to its powerful properties.

In the past there may have been some excuse for people trifling with dangerous and powerful drugs in the home treatment of Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy, as there was a lack of a valuable cure for these diseases. A remedy has recently been placed on sale specially for this class of troubles and it is meeting with a well-merited success, as every prudent mother wants such a remedy at hand. Its name is Tonsiline. It never fails. Your dealer has it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

THEY WOULD COMBINE

If the Monarchs Were Allowed to Decide.

FOOTBALL MEN ARE THINKING

If an Eleven Was Selected From Wellsville and Liverpool They Would Stand Some Chance of Winning—Mercer's Friends Are Hoping.

The Monarchs met last evening, and after thoroughly discussing their recent defeat decided to practice every evening this week for the game next Saturday with the Wheeling Tigers. Several new men will be added to the eleven, and an effort will be made to have the Wellsville eleven join the Monarchs, change the name of the association, and make one good team, playing game about in each city. Fred Booth was sent for this morning, and is expected to arrive in a few days. It was also decided to play all future games at West End park. Booth is the Bethany man who will coach the team.

Winnie Mercer yesterday held New York down to seven hits, and won his game by a score of 6 to 3. If he only succeeds in defeating Baltimore one game his numerous admirers in the city will be satisfied.

The interest taken in the city in the league pennant race is surprising, and last night the news of the Boston victory was received with cheers in an uptown store.

Boats Carried on Men's Heads.

The achievement has often been referred to of the carrying of steamboats on the backs of men. The expression is not accurate, for the Congo natives are trained from infancy to carry burdens on their heads. When a European on the lower Congo sent his black boy to a store to buy some cigarettes, he was surprised to see the servant return with the tiny package on his head. When a Congo woman has smoked her much loved pipe, the treasure is likely to repose on her head until she again requires it, and if her husband, unfortunately, has been able to procure a bottle of rum, he walks home with it nicely balanced on his head, throwing stones at the stray dogs and cats in his way, without the slightest idea that he is really an expert equilibrist. Most of the many thousands of pieces of steamboats were carried on the heads and not on the backs of men.

The 50,000 natives of the lower Congo who have been carrying these steamboats and all other freight around the cataraacts are the very men who could not be induced, 18 years ago, to give a helping hand to Mr. Stanley. He wished to carry 1,830 man loads and he had only 190 Zanzibar and Loango porters for the work. Some of the natives would sell him a little of their time, but they would not carry his goods more than two or three miles beyond their homes. Stanley's failure to secure the carriers he needed along the river delayed his work on the upper Congo for more than a year, and the labor question was the most perplexing problem with which he had to deal. He brought his carriers thousands of miles, from Zanzibar and other coasts of Africa.—Harper's Round Table.

How Cold Metals Sometimes Mix.

Professor Roberts-Austen's discoveries on the subject of the interdiffusibility of metals is most interesting reading. The facts have been to some extent known to savants before the meeting of the Royal society, at which more public attention was drawn, but on that occasion the results were made more clear. It was then shown that solid metals may be made to mix themselves as if the atoms were living creatures.

Professor Roberts-Austen has, in fact, discovered pieces of metal engaged in the very act of mixing themselves up one with the other. Of course the interest of this is that the interdiffusion of which we speak has been found to take place when the metals were cold, and, though this property in metals, to be capable of attaching themselves one to the other when cold, has been talked about before, nothing so clearly proved has hitherto been at the service of metallurgists and chemists as the facts adduced by Professor Roberts-Austen. He shows that when clean surfaces of lead and gold are held together in the absence of air at a temperature of 40 degrees for four days they unite firmly and can only be separated by a force equal to one third of the breaking strain of the lead. The professor has also proved that if a plate of gold be laid under one of lead about three-tenths of an inch thick in three days gold will have risen and diffused itself to the top of the other metal in very appreciable quantity.—Colliery Guardian.

An old Welshwoman of the old school says that the best thing to do with boys who are rough and stubborn is to send them to work in the pits. "Weak ones," she added, "ought to be brought up as ministers, and them as isn't rough nor weak as pupil teachers."

PROPHESIED BY SEWARD.

The Former Secretary of State Foresaw the Fate of Alaska.

Mr. W. H. Smith of Washington, who accompanied Secretary William H. Seward on his trip around the world, when asked why Mr. Seward never made known his reasons which led to the purchase of Alaska, said: "Mr. Seward had suffered enough abuse and ridicule from the press. The manner in which President Jefferson had been criticised and abused when he attempted to set forth the advantages of the Louisiana purchase had been a sufficient object lesson for him to know that if he had attempted to announce what he knew of this newly acquired territory the derision would have been greater. Suppose he had made the statement that the territory contained gold, silver, copper and valuable minerals. Such a statement would have been ridiculed as puerile. He was determined that his advocacy of the purchase should justify itself."

Referring to Mr. Seward's trip to Alaska after his retirement from public life, he said: "When we reached Alaska, the ex-secretary, in company with his intimate friend Mr. Samuel Hooker of Massachusetts, was standing in the bow of the ship gazing at the shore. Just before landing Mr. Seward placed his hand on the shoulder of his friend and said: 'Hooker, here is the land that I have been so much abused for acquiring for the United States. Mark my words, the day will come when it will prove a greater sensation and far more remunerative than California. The American people will yet retract what they have said in abuse of my action in regard to this territory and eulogize me for its purchase.'"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"DOG DAYS" A MYTH.

Authoritative Announcement From a Well Known Society.

The leaflet just sent out by the American Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals contains some interesting information. Among other things, the pamphlet says that "there are no dog days, because there is no time of the year when dogs are especially liable to rabies. There are no more cases of rabies in July and August than in December and January. Moreover, rabies is one of the rarest of canine diseases." It further states that "in the 30 years since the American Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was established our officers and agents have been constantly on the lookout, but no undoubted case has ever fallen under their observation or within their knowledge, and of over 160,000 dogs and other small animals which have been cared for at our shelter during the past three years not one single case of rabies has been found." The writer denies the truth of many generally accepted symptoms of rabies. Among other things he says that it is not true that a mad dog dreads water, because he is very likely to plunge his head into water if he has the opportunity.

WILL BORE FOR GOLD.

New Machine to Be Used in the Frozen Klondike Placers.

William Schwarzwelber, a St. Louis inventor, has obtained letters patent for a prospecting machine that will obviate all difficulties arising from the frozen grounds of the Alaskan placer fields.

Thus far it has been necessary for the miners to build fires on the frozen gravel of the rivers in order to remove even a few inches of dirt. Six inches deep is considered a good thaw, and after fire has to be kindled to make any kind of an impression on the ground. Mr. Schwarzwelber's invention will enable two miners to prospect to a depth of 30 feet or even more without the necessity of building a fire.

The device consists of a steel screw which is worked into the ground like a post hole auger. A cylinder of the same diameter of the screw and two feet in depth follows the screw into the ground, and within the cylinder is a well bucket which has an open bottom into which the detached dirt and gravel are forced. When full, this bucket is elevated by a windlass attachment and can be washed out and panned while the bucket is returned into the well for another load.—Exchange.

Lord Palmerston.

A minister who kept race horses and had at his command a good store of very blunt vernacular, who could not be got to admit that he understood an abstract thought, who always knew what he wanted and was determined to carry it out regardless of the opinions of others, who conceived his own ideas to be superior to those of other people, who never looked farther than tomorrow and much preferred not to think beyond this evening, but who at the same time was determined to establish the privilege of an Englishman to the sidewalk all over the world, while men of other nations might step into the gutter—this minister represented aspirations which had long ago sickened under the rounded periods intended to convince humanity that bread and calico summed up their total requirements and were more sufficient for rational happiness. This was the popular conception of Palmerston when, in 1853, he became first minister of the crown.—"Yoke of Empire," by R. B. Brett.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 28.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Governor, Asa S. Bushnell.
Lieutenant governor, A. W. Jones.
Supreme Judge, Jacob A. Burkett.
Attorney general, Frank Monnet.
State treasurer, Samuel Campbell.
School commissioner, L. D. Bonebrake.
Member of Board of Public Works, C. A. Joddard.

For Representative, P. M. Ashford of Washington township.
For Treasurer, Charles E. Smith of Fairfield township.
For Sheriff, Charles Gill of Liverpool township.
For Commissioner, W. K. George of Madison township.
For Prosecutor, J. H. Brookes of Liverpool township.
For Infirmary Director, C. D. Filson of Center township.

If Congressman Tayler would please the great majority of people in this place, he will allow them to select the next postmaster at an election called for that purpose.

They are having a warm time out in Iowa, the campaign having been commenced under conditions which promise a splendid Republican victory, provided the Democrats continue their line of argument.

The London and Berlin papers are saying some things of America which do not sound well when coming from governments pretending to be friendly to Uncle Sam. Either these semi-official utterances are made without official authority or the diplomats of the other side are a bungling lot of hypocrites.

The resumption of work under the Dingley law is causing many a statistician to note the damage done by the Wilson bill, and none is more interesting than the report which comes from Trenton. The capital invested did not yield 1 per cent interest, while the payroll of $50,000 a week sank to $8,000. In that time the operative potters lost $2,185,000 a year. Is it any wonder the potters vote for protection?

CHAPMAN'S BUSINESS.

The "pluck me" store has for years been the curse of the Ohio miners, and, if it be true that Candidate Chapman is interested not only in one but in several of these institutions, he should not receive a vote in the state. Any man who will foster such robbery, and live in luxury from its proceeds, is not a safe individual to endow with the great power which accompanies the position of governor.

DOING HIS DUTY.

Governor Bushnell is a candidate for re-election because his official record is spotless, and he can stand before the people of Ohio with the knowledge that he has done right. During the time he has served the state the gentleman has done his duty. Occasionally it necessitated personal inconvenience and that which might not have been his private inclination. But he has cast these aside, and remembering that he was governor of the commonwealth has done his best. Could the people ask anything other than that from the chief executive of Ohio?

THE REPUBLICAN PAPER.

It is a favorite pastime for certain of the Republican newspapers of Columbiana county to refer to other Republican newspapers as though they had no connection whatever with the party and were not in any circumstance to be considered as having interests identical with that organization.

Now this is wrong. There is no real reason for an action at once so discourteous and untruthful. It arises from the mere fact that the newspapers in question do not bow down in humble submission at the feet of some local or county boss, and, while worshipping him in person, do just as he commands in matters political. That portion of the press which still maintains its independence and cannot be purchased for a few columns of legal advertising each year, has incurred the enmity of the supporters of certain political leaders because it dares to call these men to account, and demand that they show cause why they are permitted year in and year out to control the politics of this county.

A Republican newspaper is not of necessity a supporter of any gang or combination. It is a publication which devotes its energies and influence to the advancement of the Republican party. A Note of Warning.

A number of the remedies commonly used for throat trouble have but little merit. The indiscriminate and careless use of some of them is attended with positive danger.

As a prominent example, Chlorate of Potash probably does a great deal more harm than good. Many people, when suffering from sore throat and like troubles, carry crystals or tablets of Chlorate of Potash in their pockets, and eat them almost like candy. Chlorate of Potash has a decided direct action on the kidneys and its unwise use in frequent and large doses irritates these organs and leads to really serious results, especially so in children.

Some may think this is sounding a false and needless alarm but as a single proof we wish to state that we have before us the November, 1894, copy of the Indiana Medical Journal, wherein are reported two deaths clearly due directly to this habit of using Chlorate of Potash with no regard to its powerful properties.

In the past there may have been some excuse for people trifling with dangerous and powerful drugs in the home treatment of Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy, as there was a lack of a valuable cure for these diseases. A remedy has recently been placed on sale specially for this class of troubles and it is meeting with a well-merited success, as every prudent mother wants such a remedy at hand. Its name is Tonsiline. It never fails. Your dealer has it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

THEY WOULD COMBINE

If the Monarchs Were Allowed to Decide.

FOOTBALL MEN ARE THINKING

If an Eleven Was Selected From Wellsville and Liverpool They Would Stand Some Chance of Winning—Mercer's Friends Are Hoping.

The Monarchs met last evening, and after thoroughly discussing their recent defeat decided to practice every evening this week for the game next Saturday with the Wheeling Tigers. Several new men will be added to the eleven, and an effort will be made to have the Wellsville eleven join the Monarchs, change the name of the association, and make one good team, playing game about in each city. Fred Booth was sent for this morning, and is expected to arrive in a few days. It was also decided to play all future games at West End park. Booth is the Bethany man who will coach the team.

Winnie Mercer yesterday held New York down to seven hits, and won his game by a score of 6 to 3. If he only succeeds in defeating Baltimore one game his numerous admirers in the city will be satisfied.

The interest taken in the city in the league pennant race is surprising, and last night the news of the Boston victory was received with cheers in an uptown store.

Boats Carried on Men's Heads.

The achievement has often been referred to of the carrying of steamboats on the backs of men. The expression is not accurate, for the Congo natives are trained from infancy to carry burdens on their heads. When a European on the lower Congo sent his black boy to a store to buy some cigarettes, he was surprised to see the servant return with the tiny package on his head. When a Congo woman has smoked her much loved pipe, the treasure is likely to repose on her head until she again requires it, and if her husband, unfortunately, has been able to procure a bottle of rum, he walks home with it nicely balanced on his head, throwing stones at the stray dogs and cats in his way, without the slightest idea that he is really an expert equilibrist. Most of the many thousands of pieces of steamboats were carried on the heads and not on the backs of men.

The 50,000 natives of the lower Congo who have been carrying these steamboats and all other freight around the cataracts are the very men who could not be induced, 18 years ago, to give a helping hand to Mr. Stanley. He wished to carry 1,830 man loads and he had only 190 Zanzibar and Loango porters for the work. Some of the natives would sell him a little of their time, but they would not carry his goods more than two or three miles beyond their homes. Stanley's failure to secure the carriers he needed along the river delayed his work on the upper Congo for more than a year, and the labor question was the most perplexing problem with which he had to deal. He brought his carriers thousands of miles, from Zanzibar and other coasts of Africa.—Harper's Round Table.

How Cold Metals Sometimes Mix.

Professor Roberts-Austen's discoveries on the subject of the interdiffusibility of metals is most interesting reading. The facts have been to some extent known to savants before the meeting of the Royal society, at which more public attention was drawn, but on that occasion the results were made more clear. It was then shown that solid metals may be made to mix themselves as if the atoms were living creatures.

Professor Roberts-Austen has, in fact, discovered pieces of metal engaged in the very act of mixing themselves up one with the other. Of course the interest of this is that the interdiffusion of which we speak has been found to take place when the metals were cold, and, though this property in metals, to be capable of attaching themselves one to the other when cold, has been talked about before, nothing so clearly proved has hitherto been at the service of metallurgists and chemists as the facts adduced by Professor Roberts-Austen. He shows that when clean surfaces of lead and gold are held together in the absence of air at a temperature of 40 degrees for four days they unite firmly and can only be separated by a force equal to one third of the breaking strain of the lead. The professor has also proved that if a plate of gold be laid under one of lead about three-tenths of an inch thick in three days gold will have risen and diffused itself to the top of the other metal in very appreciable quantity.—Colliery Guardian.

PROPHESIED BY SEWARD.

The Former Secretary of State Foresaw the Fate of Alaska.

Mr. W. H. Smith of Washington, who accompanied Secretary William H. Seward on his trip around the world, when asked why Mr. Seward never made known his reasons which led to the purchase of Alaska, said: "Mr. Seward had suffered enough abuse and ridicule from the press. The manner in which President Jefferson had been criticised and abused when he attempted to set forth the advantages of the Louisiana purchase had been a sufficient object lesson for him to know that if he had attempted to announce what he knew of this newly acquired territory the derision would have been greater. Suppose he had made the statement that the territory contained gold, silver, copper and valuable minerals. Such a statement would have been ridiculed as puerile. He was determined that his advocacy of the purchase should justify itself."

Referring to Mr. Seward's trip to Alaska after his retirement from public life, he said: "When we reached Alaska, the ex-secretary, in company with his intimate friend Mr. Samuel Hooker of Massachusetts, was standing in the bow of the ship gazing at the shore. Just before landing Mr. Seward placed his hand on the shoulder of his friend and said: 'Hooker, here is the land that I have been so much abused for acquiring for the United States. Mark my words, the day will come when it will prove a greater sensation and far more remunerative than California. The American people will yet retract what they have said in abuse of my action in regard to this territory and eulogize me for its purchase.'"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"DOG DAYS" A MYTH.

Authoritative Announcement From a Well Known Society.

The leaflet just sent out by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals contains some interesting information. Among other things, the pamphlet says that "there are no dog days, because there is no time of the year when dogs are especially liable to rabies. There are no more cases of rabies in July and August than in December and January. Moreover, rabies is one of the rarest of canine diseases." It further states that "in the 30 years since the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was established our officers and agents have been constantly on the lookout, but no undoubted case has ever fallen under their observation or within their knowledge, and of over 160,000 dogs and other small animals which have been cared for at our shelter during the past three years not one single case of rabies has been found." The writer denies the truth of many generally accepted symptoms of rabies. Among other things he says that it is not true that a mad dog dreads water, because he is very likely to plunge his head into water if he has the opportunity.

WILL BORE FOR GOLD.

New Machine to Be Used in the Frozen Klondike Placers.

William Schwarnweber, a St. Louis inventor, has obtained letters patent for a prospecting machine that will obviate all difficulties arising from the frozen grounds of the Alaskan placer fields.

Thus far it has been necessary for the miners to build fires on the frozen gravel of the rivers in order to remove even a few inches of dirt. Six inches deep is considered a good thaw, and fire after fire has to be kindled to make any kind of an impression on the ground. Mr. Schwarnweber's invention will enable two miners to prospect to a depth of 30 feet or even more without the necessity of building a fire.

The device consists of a steel screw which is worked into the ground like a post hole auger. A cylinder of the same diameter of the screw and two feet in depth follows the screw into the ground, and within the cylinder is a well bucket which has an open bottom into which the detached dirt and gravel are forced. When full, this bucket is elevated by a windlass attachment and can be washed out and panned while the bucket is returned into the well for another load.—Exchange.

Lord Palmerston.

A minister who kept race horses and had at his command a good store of very blunt vernacular, who could not be got to admit that he understood an abstract thought, who always knew what he wanted and was determined to carry it out regardless of the opinions of others, who conceived his own ideas to be superior to those of other people, who never looked farther than tomorrow and much preferred not to think beyond this evening, but who at the same time was determined to establish the privilege of an Englishman to the sidewalk all over the world, while men of other nations might step into the gutter—this minister represented aspirations which had long ago sickened under the rounded periods intended to convince humanity that bread and calico summed more sufficient for rational happiness. This was the popular conception of Palmerston when, in 1855, he became first minister of the crown.—"Yoke of Empire," by R. B. Brett.

TAKEN AT ONCE TO THE HOSPITAL

It Was Not Known When They Were Taken From the Columbiana Infirmary That They Were Afflicted With the Disease—Mr. Southworth's Statement.

There are several cases of scarlet fever at the Fairmount home, the afflicted ones being the children of Harry Dickey, who was punished for not supporting his family, and whose wife is now in the Newburg asylum.

It will be remembered that Dickey was bound to the grand jury by Mayor Jones, of Wellsville, and the wife and children were cared for at the infirmary. The poor woman was unable to bear the weight of her woes, and her mind gave way, and the children were sent to the home. Soon afterward it was reported in Alliance that scarlet fever had appeared at Fairmount, and when questioned Superintendent Southworth gave out a statement.

He stated that a week ago three little children, aged respectively three, four and six years, had been received at the home from the Columbiana county infirmary. On Wednesday one of the children seemed ill, but it was thought by the attendants that the little one was homesick. However, on Thursday, another of the three was taken ill, and it was found that both children were suffering with scarlet fever. They were immediately removed to the hospital, and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease. While a number of the children at the home were exposed to the malady, it is not thought that any new cases will be developed.

PLEADING FOR ROBISON.

The Attorneys Argued Before Circuit Court Today.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special]—The list of cases scheduled for action by circuit court has been thinned out. John C. Whinnery versus Salem Water company, J. C. Deidrick versus Ohio, and Stevenson & Co. versus the Pioneer pottery were continued. Alex Stewart versus Sarah J. Campbell, H. Griner & Son versus Salem Lock company and Annie Connors versus Louisa Patterson were passed, and H. C. Post versus Joseph Post, William H. Hall versus B. S. Ambler, James B. Campf versus Joseph Campf were settled.

Ohio against William McLaughlin was heard yesterday on a motion to dismiss. The Robison case was argued today. The arguments were made by Prosecutor Speaker and Attorney Potts for the state, and Judge Young and H. E. Grosshans for the defence. They consisted of general reviews of the case, and of all instances connected with it. The record, which will be submitted to the court for examination this afternoon, contains 900 pages and is five inches thick.

VERY IMPORTANT BILL

It Deals With the Tearing Up of Streets.

WILL BE INTRODUCED IN COUNCIL

Parties Cannot Lay Pipes Without the Permit of the Clerk, and Money Must Be Deposited With Him In Order That Proper Repairs May Be Made.

At the meeting of council to be held this evening Solicitor Grosshans will present an ordinance, which, if adopted, will keep the streets in good condition.

Section 1 provides that no water, sewer pipe or pipes shall be laid without an application for a permit to the city clerk, and no permit shall be granted until a sum of money is deposited with the clerk sufficient to put the street in a good condition as it was previous to the laying of the pipes.

Section 2 provides that the trench be refilled and the street repaved immediately after the pipe is laid. Where the street is composed of sand and gravel the trench shall be thoroughly drenched with water as the sand or gravel is refilled. Where it is of clay the trench shall be filled in layers of not more than 12 inches and thoroughly rammed with a rammer weighing not less than four pounds. After the trench is filled the street shall be repaved on a bed of clean gravel not less than eight inches deep.

Section 3 provides that before a permit is granted a sum of money shall be deposited with the clerk, sufficient to put the street in as good condition as it was before the opening was made; that all water pipes in clay ground shall be laid three and a half feet below the surface, and in sand or gravel five feet, and the clerk be notified as soon as the work is completed. If it is not done to his complete satisfaction, he can have the work done again, and pay for it out of the money deposited with him. If the work is satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Section 4 provides that no person shall hereafter open or in any manner break streets without permission from the clerk. The person opening the streets shall at all times see that a sufficient barrier is erected to prevent accidents.

Any violation of the ordinance is made punishable by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $50 and the cost of prosecution.

MAY GO TO THE WORKS

Provided the Prisoners Do Not Pay Up.

The mayor disposed of two cases this morning, and the chances are that both will go to the works.

James Burke was fined $9.60 for acting disorderly in Sixth street and being drunk. Officer Jennings arrested him and called the patrol.

Special Officer Jack Tinson, of the street car line, scooped in John Kennedy, last evening, for being drunk and acting disorderly on car 39. He was fined $9.60. Both stand committed to the workhouse until the fine is paid.

Married in Lisbon.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special]—Frank S. Clark and Miss Laura E. McCormick, well known young people of Wellsville, drove to this place yesterday afternoon, secured the necessary papers from Judge Boone, and were married by Squire Firestone.

Charles G. Swearingen and Annie G. McBane, Harry A. Lennly and Elma L. Harold have also been licensed to marry.

A Hospital Meeting.

The members of the Hospital association met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Stevenson, in Market street, but transacted no business. The board of directors will get together the latter part of the week, and will open a vigorous campaign.

Will Not Freeze This Year.

Patrons of the street car line will fare a great deal better this winter than ever before. The cars will all be fitted with stoves, and the electric heaters will be discarded, as Manager Hoefgen is of the opinion street cars cannot be heated by electricity.

Professor Harper's Recital.

Professor Harper will give his first free recital at the First U. P. church next Thursday evening. The gentleman has arranged a splendid program. It is expected that the attendance will be large.

A Judgment.

H. F. Watson was this morning given judgment against Chamberlain Brothers for $24.65.

Imports Free From Duty.

Assistant Secretary Spaulding has decided that cargoes imported into the United States in Norwegian vessels from any country are not subject under our treaty with Sweden and Norway to a discriminating duty of 10 per cent. While specific cases of Swedish, German, Austrian, Belgian, Brazilian, Danish, Italian, Hawaiian, Dutch, Russian and Turkish vessels have not yet been brought before the department, the terms of our treaties with these nations are such as to exempt them from discriminating duty.

Whether the new tariff act should be construed as imposing the discriminating duty in certain cases on British, French, Portuguese, Japanese vessels and vessels of some other nationalities has not been determined.—Washington Star.

New Commander For the Pope's Guard.

Don Paolo Altieri, Prince of Viano, has just been appointed by Pope Leo coadjutor and future successor of his father, Prince Emilio Altieri, in the command of the pope's Noble guard. The post is becoming hereditary in the Altieri family, as it has been held by some member of it since the beginning of the century and may be added to the other five hereditary positions held by princely families at the papal court. There are two princes assistant to the papal throne, the heads of the Orsini and Colonna families; a marshal of the holy Roman church and of the sacred conclave, Prince Chigi Albani; a standard bearer of the holy church, the Marquis Patrizi-Montoro, and a grand master of the sacred hospice, Prince Ruspoli.

The quantity of gas made in Germany last year, according to official returns, was 25,887,000 cubic feet, in the manufacture of which 2,750,000 tons of coal was employed. The number of flames in use was 5,735,000.

PLEADING FOR ROBISON.

The Attorneys Argued Before Circuit Court Today.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special].—The list of cases scheduled for action by circuit court has been thinned out. John C. Whinnery versus Salem Water company, J. C. Deidrick versus Ohio, and Stevenson & Co. versus the Pioneer pottery were continued. Alex Stewart versus Sarah J. Campbell, H. Griner & Son versus Salem Lock company and Annie Connors versus Louisa Patterson were passed, and H. C. Post versus Joseph Post, William H. Hall versus B. S. Ambler, James B. Campf versus Joseph Campf were settled.

Ohio against William McLaughlin was heard yesterday on a motion to dismiss.

The Robison case was argued today. The arguments were made by Prosecutor Speaker and Attorney Potts for the state, and Judge Young and H. E. Grosshans for the defence. They consisted of general reviews of the case, and of all instances connected with it. The record, which will be submitted to the court for examination this afternoon, contains 900 pages and is five inches thick.

Small Fire.

A small fire occurred last evening about 9:30 at the cooper shop of Robert Hill, Second street. The alarm was sent in by telephone, but the blaze was extinguished before the department arrived. The damage was slight.

DANDY NICE LOTS.

Good Time.

A local dealer floated three large flats of coal from Shippingport to this city last evening in four hours. This is good time, considering that there is not much current in the river.

Moving to Palestine.

Mr. George and his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Quay, who moved several years ago from this city to Maryland, are now moving to East Palestine, where they will make their home.

VERY IMPORTANT BILL

It Deals With the Tearing Up of Streets.

WILL BE INTRODUCED IN COUNCIL.

Parties Cannot Lay Pipes Without the Permit of the Clerk, and Money Must Be Deposited With Him In Order That Proper Repairs May Be Made.

At the meeting of council to be held this evening Solicitor Grosshans will present an ordinance, which, if adopted, will keep the streets in good condition.

Section 1 provides that no water, sewer pipe or pipes shall be laid without an application for a permit to the city clerk, and no permit shall be granted until a sum of money is deposited with the clerk sufficient to put the street in a good condition as it was previous to the laying of the pipes.

Section 2 provides that the trench be refilled and the street repaved immediately after the pipe is laid. Where the street is composed of sand and gravel the trench shall be thoroughly drenched with water as the sand or gravel is refilled. Where it is of clay the trench shall be filled in layers of not more than 12 inches and thoroughly rammed with a rammer weighing not less than four pounds. After the trench is filled the street shall be repaved on a bed of clean gravel not less than eight inches deep.

Section 3 provides that before a permit is granted a sum of money shall be deposited with the clerk, sufficient to put the street in as good condition as it was before the opening was made; that all water pipes in clay ground shall be laid three and a half feet below the surface, and in sand or gravel five feet, and the clerk be notified as soon as the work is completed. If it is not done to his complete satisfaction, he can have the work done again, and pay for it out of the money deposited with him. If the work is satisfactory the money will be refunded.

Section 4 provides that no person shall hereafter open or in any manner break streets without permission from the clerk. The person opening the streets shall at all times see that a sufficient barrier is erected to prevent accidents.

Any violation of the ordinance is made punishable by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $50 and the cost of prosecution.

MAY GO TO THE WORKS

Provided the Prisoners Do Not Pay Up.

The mayor disposed of two cases this morning, and the chances are that both will go to the works.

James Burke was fined $9.60 for acting disorderly in Sixth street and being drunk. Officer Jennings arrested him and called the patrol.

Special Officer Jack Tinson, of the street car line, scooped in John Kennedy, last evening, for being drunk and acting disorderly on car 39. He was fined $9.60. Both stand committed to the workhouse until the fine is paid.

Married In Lisbon.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special].—Frank S. Clark and Miss Laura E. McCormick, well known young people of Wellsville, drove to this place yesterday afternoon, secured the necessary papers from Judge Boone, and were married by Squire Firestone.

Charles G. Swearingen and Annie G. McBane, Harry A. Lennly and Elma L. Harrold have also been licensed to marry.

A Hospital Meeting.

The members of the Hospital association met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Stevenson, in Market street, but transacted no business. The board of directors will get together the latter part of the week, and will open a vigorous campaign.

Will Not Freeze This Year.

Patrons of the street car line will fare a great deal better this winter than ever before. The cars will all be fitted with stoves, and the electric heaters will be discarded, as Manager Hoefgen is of the opinion street cars cannot be heated by electricity.

Professor Harper's Recital.

Professor Harper will give his first free recital at the First U. P. church next Thursday evening. The gentleman has arranged a splendid program. It is expected that the attendance will be large.

A Judgment.

H. F. Watson was this morning given judgment against Chamberlain Brothers for $24.65.

DO YOU WANT CARPETS?

If You Do, Here Is the Opportunity of a Lifetime.

If you can afford a superbly handsome velvet Brussels carpet, you can secure a wonderful bargain by calling at Frank Crook's carpet headquarters.

Do you desire a beautiful body Brussels? If so, Frank Crook can give you the very article you are looking for, at moderate prices and on most favorable terms.

Are you needing a tapestry Brussels? Crook carries the goods which cannot fail to please you.

Is it an ingrain carpet you have set your heart upon? Well, well, you ought to see the beauties which Crook has just received in this department.

In fact, if you desire anything in the line of carpets, oil cloths, rugs, matting or art squares, you will be acting wisely and well by calling upon Frank Crook, Fifth and Market streets, as he has just placed in stock a class of goods which cannot fail in pleasing and profiting you, goods which defy competition and which you cannot secure elsewhere in this region.

Crook makes it the aim of his business life to please his patrons, and you will be indeed hard to satisfy if Crook cannot meet your wants in every particular, material, prices and terms. This accounts for the splendid business being done by this headquarters for carpets, furniture and housefurnishing goods. You have a special invitation to call and examine goods and prices, and you will be accorded a courteous welcome, whether you purchase or not.

Remember the place. Frank Crook's carpet and furniture headquarters. Take either the Fifth street or Market street entrance, and you will find bargains on every hand. Examine the display on the lower floor, and then step upon the elevator and visit the departments on the upper floors, all teeming with bargains for the people.

Imports Free From Duty.

Assistant Secretary Spaulding has decided that cargoes imported into the United States in Norwegian vessels from any country are not subject under our treaty with Sweden and Norway to a discriminating duty of 10 per cent. While specific cases of Swedish, German, Austrian, Belgian, Brazilian, Danish, Italian, Hawaiian, Dutch, Russian and Turkish vessels have not yet been brought before the department, the terms of our treaties with these nations are such as to exempt them from discriminating duty.

Whether the new tariff act should be construed as imposing the discriminating duty in certain cases on British, French, Portuguese, Japanese vessels and vessels of some other nationalities has not been determined.—Washington Star.

New Commander For the Pope's Guard.

Don Paolo Altieri, Prince of Viano, has just been appointed by Pope Leo coadjutor and future successor of his father, Prince Emilio Altieri, in the command of the pope's Noble guard. The post is becoming hereditary in the Altieri family, as it has been held by some member of it since the beginning of the century and may be added to the other five hereditary positions held by princely families at the papal court. There are two princes assistant to the papal throne, the heads of the Orsini and Colonna families; a marshal of the holy Roman church and of the sacred conclave, Prince Chigi Albani; a standard bearer of the holy church, the Marquis Patrizi-Montoro, and a grand master of the sacred hospice, Prince Ruspoli.

The quantity of gas made in Germany last year, according to official returns, was 25,887,000 cubic feet, in the manufacture of which 2,750,000 tons of coal was employed. The number of flames in use was 5,735,000.

VINDICATED PROF. REED

Christian Church Voted For the Pastor.

ELDER SCOTT HAD HIS EVIDENCE

But the Congregation Could Not Understand Why They Should Turn the Grindstone While the Axes of Other Parties Were Being Sharpened.

Last evening a most important meeting was held in the Christian church. Its object was to adjust some difficulties existing between a part of the corps of elders and the pastor, Prof. O. S. Reed. It had been said by one of them that if church members knew what he knew, Reed wouldn't be retained as pastor. As stories never grow less by repetition, it became to be said that there must be something very radically wrong in the minister's course. No other method of redress presented itself than a public meeting of the congregation to set matters right. Reverend Reed made a clear, ringing statement in which he declared that this was an entirely new experience to him—that his integrity of character had never before been questioned in any community in which he had lived—that his life was an open book, and he challenged investigation.

John Scott, the opposing elder, set forth the matter as he viewed it, declaring that he had damaging evidence in certain letters he had received, as well as in interviews with preachers. In answer the letters were demanded to be produced. This was urged, and a messenger was sent for them. They were read, and each in turn spoke in the most flattering terms of Reverend Reed. Two of the writers had axes to grind, which led one to say Reed was "too old and too slow for Liverpool," and wound up by recommending another man for this field. The other also recommended another man whom the writer thought more suited to the work. In all it was the most complete vindication a man ever had before an assembly. A motion was made that the action of a part of the elders in declaring their intention of having Reverend Reed leave upon expiration of his term of one year, be not sustained. It was overwhelmingly carried, only a few voting to sustain the action of the elders.

Samuel B. Johnson was elected to the vacancy on the board of elders caused by removal of Harry Dickson to Marlboro.

WILL BE HERE TONIGHT.

Secretary Charles Will Very Soon Go Home.

Doctor Lee was in Pittsburg yesterday, and decided to call on Secretary W. H. Charles at the Allegheny hospital, but was agreeably surprised to meet him at the Pittsburg Young Men's Christian association.

Mr. Charles is able to be about, but is far from well. He will come to this place this afternoon with Secretary Robinson, of Pittsburg, and expects to spend the night here. Within a few days the gentleman will go to the home of his father at Utica, N. Y., where he will remain until he has recovered his strength. The gentleman's many friends in the city will be delighted to know that he is better.

UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATION

Will Hold Its First Meeting Next Friday.

The members of the University association were so pleased with the course in universal history last winter that they have decided to continue their studies, and will hold the first meeting of the season in Professor Harper's rooms next Friday night. The course this year will deal with universal literature, and it is probable that universal religion will be taken up next year.

BUCKS WANT THE GIRLS.

Indians Refuse to Allow Them to Go to School.

POCATELLO, Ida., Sept. 28.—Two companies of United States cavalry from the Boies barracks have been sent to the Fort Hall Indian agency, at Roose fork, to quell the anti-school riots there.

About 100 of the young bucks have determined that the girls shall not go to school, and in this they are backed up by the old squaws. Every girl over 9 years old is claimed by some buck as his wife. The Indian police have been set upon, beaten up and their arms taken from them. Agent Irwin, finding his police powerless, called for troops.

He Would Not Deny It.

A federal judge lately charged a jury in a liquor case as follows: "In later years there seems to have been a disposition to deny or ignore judicial knowledge as to what constitutes intoxicating liquors, and the courts have manifested a desire to disavow any judicial knowledge on this subject. At the same time some of the courts have not hesitated to impute to juries an extensive knowledge and information in this regard. This court, however, will follow the precedent established by the decision of Chancellor Walworth upon this subject and will assume judicial knowledge concerning intoxicating liquors. In a trial in the state of Wisconsin, where this question arose in 1883, the trial judge declared that a man must be a driveling idiot who did not know what beer was, and that it was not necessary to prove it to be an intoxicating liquor."

"Later the supreme court of that state, in passing on the charge of the trial judge, declared that his rulings in the case upon this question were not only clearly correct, but if his peculiar manner gave them force and emphasis it was not only proper, but commendable. This court, therefore, will neither stultify itself nor impeach its own veracity by telling you that it has no judicial knowledge that the liquor commonly known as 'whisky' is an intoxicating liquor or that the drink commonly called a 'whisky cocktail' is an intoxicating drink."—Lease and Comment.

Wesley and Method.

Louis XIV's famous saying, "I am the state," is not far from being applicable to Wesley, however he would have revolted from saying, "I am the church." But unquestionably the prolongation of his life as both the apostle and lawgiver of his church throughout the whole of its adolescent and formative period, during which it was plastic to his organizing and guiding hand, secured to it both its stable basis and its symmetrical development. As a preacher second only to that incomparable Whitefield whom a skeptic like Hume said he would go 20 miles to hear; as a hymnist second only to his peerless brother Charles, who has given 627 hymns to the Methodist hymn book, he was pre-eminent in fitness for patriarchal administration and government. No man has come so near the position of a Protestant pope. In Great Britain his sole judgment sufficed to exclude any member or minister deemed unworthy.

In America, in 1770, the deed of the old John Street church, the first Methodist church in America, restricted its use to such persons as Wesley should appoint. This autocratic constitution was but a natural incident of the period of tutelage through which scattered societies, mainly composed of the humbler sort of people, with their visible bond chiefly in the person of their beloved founder and father, grew at length into a fully organized church in the form of a Presbyterian episcopacy.—Outlook.

Calling the Chickens.

In England the calls chuck, chuck, or coop, coop, prevail; in Virginia, ooo-che, ooo-che; in Pennsylvania, pee, pee. This latter call is widely employed, being reported from Germany, Spain (as pi, pi), Bulgaria, Hungary, Bavaria and the Tyrol. In the Austrian province the term is used in combination, thus: Pulla, pi, pi; the call pulle, pul, pul, also occurs there.

In some parts of Germany the poultry are called with tick, tick; in Prussia, put, put, and young chickens with tuk, tuk (Grimm), and schip, schip, the latter being an imitation of their own cry. In eastern Prussia hens are called with kluckchen, kluck, kluck; also tippchen, tipp, tipp. Grimm records also pi, pi, and tiet, tiet. Weinholt reports from Bavaria bibi, bibeli bidli; pi, pi, and pul, pul.

In Denmark the call is pootle; in Holland, kip, kip; in Bohemia, tyoo; in Bulgaria, tiri, tiri.—American Anthropologist.

Drouth in Blue Grass Belt.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 28.—Grass in all the blue grass region is dried because of long drouth, and fear of damage by fire is great. Two hundred acres of meadow on John Hayes' farm, six miles northeast of here, was fired by a locomotive and burned over. Other fires have been extinguished by the united efforts of hundreds of neighbors. Timber along the Kentucky river, southeast of Versailles, has been on fire since Saturday. Many houses are threatened.

About $2,000,000 worth of American whisky is annually sent abroad, most of it from Baltimore.

A COLORED DANCE.

Mrs. Stokes, the Rich New York Woman, Will Give It.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 28.—Upon completion of her new barn next Saturday night, Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire horsewoman of New York, intends to give a well colored dance, to which she has invited a large number of her eastern friends. Five hundred of Lexington's most prominent colored people have been invited and prizes have been offered for several contests which will incite strong competition.

One hundred dollars will be given best cakewalk couple, $100 for best buck dance and $50 for best dressed colored person.

PROTEST OF FOREIGNERS.

They Denounce Authorities All Around For Lattimer Shooting.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 28.—A mass-meeting of Lithuanians and Poles protested against the Lattimer shooting.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the action of the sheriff and deputies and calling upon the workmen to vote with the Socialistic Labor party to secure the redress of wrongs. A protest was entered against the action of Governor Hastings in sending troops to Hazleton, and against the payment of bills for their maintenance by the state.

BISHOP POTTER FAVORS LOW.

He Reaffirms His Belief in the People Voting Right.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—In a New York newspaper of Sept. 22 Bishop Henry C. Potter, then at Saratoga, was quoted as saying that Seth Low will win in the mayoralty contest, adding: "I have great hopes of the common people."

An inquiry wired to the bishop brought reply affirming the statement and emphasizing his faith.

ALL THE UNSOLD LOTS IN THE Pleasant Heights addition to East Liverpool, O., amounting to over 100 lots, will be sold at Public Auction to the highest bidder on Thursday, September 30, 1897,

on the property, commencing at 2 p. m., eastern standard time. These lots are appraised at from $55 upwards, averaging about $65 to the lot, and are nearly all 40x100 feet in size. They will be sold at the highest bid, no matter what the amount.

Every lot sold will have a guarantee that the street car line will be built to the addition within six months and possibly by December 15, 1897, or sooner.

$20,000 of property in Pleasant Heights has been disposed of at private and public sale to date and the company is desirous of closing up its affairs to realize from the handsome profits already made. About twenty acres will be held for speculation.

This sale will afford the chance of a life time to secure bargains in property. Terms, $10 down on each lot, balance in semi-annual payments covering five years at 6 per cent. interest.

Those desiring transportation can secure tickets good for carriage to grounds and return, free of charge, by applying to the officials of the company.

In case of heavy rain sale may be postponed until first clear day. Until the day of sale lots may be secured at the appraisement.

VINDICATED PROF. REED

Christian Church Voted For the Pastor.

ELDER SCOTT HAD HIS EVIDENCE

But the Congregation Could Not Understand Why They Should Turn the Grindstone While the Axes of Other Parties Were Being Sharpened.

Last evening a most important meeting was held in the Christian church. Its object was to adjust some difficulties existing between a part of the corps of elders and the pastor, Prof. O. S. Reed.

It had been said by one of them that if church members knew what he knew, Reed wouldn't be retained as pastor. As stories never grow less by repetition, it became to be said that there must be something very radically wrong in the minister's course. No other method of redress presented itself than a public meeting of the congregation to set matters right. Reverend Reed made a clear, ringing statement in which he declared that this was an entirely new experience to him—that his integrity of character had never before been questioned in any community in which he had lived—that his life was an open book, and he challenged investigation.

John Scott, the opposing elder, set forth the matter as he viewed it, declaring that he had damaging evidence in certain letters he had received, as well as in interviews with preachers. In answer the letters were demanded to be produced. This was urged, and a messenger was sent for them. They were read, and each in turn spoke in the most flattering terms of Reverend Reed. Two of the writers had axes to grind, which led one to say Reed was "too old and too slow for Liverpool," and wound up by recommending another man for this field. The other also recommended another man whom the writer thought more suited to the work. In all it was the most complete vindication a man ever had before an assembly. A motion was made that the action of a part of the elders in declaring their intention of having Reverend Reed leave upon expiration of his term of one year, be not sustained. It was overwhelmingly carried, only a few voting to sustain the action of the elders.

Samuel B. Johnson was elected to the vacancy on the board of elders caused by removal of Harry Dickson to Marlboro.

WILL BE HERE TONIGHT.

Secretary Charles Will Very Soon Go Home.

Doctor Lee was in Pittsburg yesterday, and decided to call on Secretary W. H. Charles at the Allegheny hospital, but was agreeably surprised to meet him at the Pittsburg Young Men's Christian association.

Mr. Charles is able to be about, but is far from well. He will come to this place this afternoon with Secretary Robinson, of Pittsburg, and expects to spend the night here. Within a few days the gentleman will go to the home of his father at Utica, N. Y., where he will remain until he has recovered his strength. The gentleman's many friends in the city will be delighted to know that he is better.

UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATION

Will Hold Its First Meeting Next Friday.

The members of the University association were so pleased with the course in universal history last winter that they have decided to continue their studies, and will hold the first meeting of the season in Professor Harper's rooms next Friday night. The course this year will deal with universal literature, and it is probable that universal religion will be taken up next year.

BUCKS WANT THE GIRLS.

Indians Refuse to Allow Them to Go to School.

POCATELLO, Ida., Sept. 28.—Two companies of United States cavalry from the Boies barracks have been sent to the Fort Hall Indian agency, at Roose fork, to quell the anti-school riots there.

About 100 of the young bucks have determined that the girls shall not go to school, and in this they are backed up by the old squaws. Every girl over 9 years old is claimed by some buck as his wife. The Indian police have been set upon, beaten up and their arms taken from them. Agent Irwin, finding his police powerless, called for troops.

He Would Not Deny It.

A federal judge lately charged a jury in a liquor case as follows: "In later years there seems to have been a disposition to deny or ignore judicial knowledge as to what constitutes intoxicating liquors, and the courts have manifested a desire to disavow any judicial knowledge on this subject. At the same time some of the courts have not hesitated to impute to juries an extensive knowledge and information in this regard. This court, however, will follow the precedent established by the decision of Chancellor Walworth upon this subject and will assume judicial knowledge concerning intoxicating liquors. In a trial in the state of Wisconsin, where this question arose in 1883, the trial judge declared that a man must be a driveling idiot who did not know what beer was, and that it was not necessary to prove it to be an intoxicating liquor."

"Later the supreme court of that state, in passing on the charge of the trial judge, declared that his rulings in the case upon this question were not only clearly correct, but if his peculiar manner gave them force and emphasis it was not only proper, but commendable. This court, therefore, will neither stultify itself nor impeach its own veracity by telling you that it has not judicial knowledge that the liquor commonly known as 'whisky' is an intoxicating liquor or that the drink commonly called a 'whisky cocktail' is an intoxicating drink."—Lease and Comment.

Wesley and Method.

Louis XIV's famous saying, "I am the state," is not far from being applicable to Wesley, however he would have revolted from saying, "I am the church." But unquestionably the prolongation of his life as both the apostle and lawgiver of his church throughout the whole of its adolescent and formative period, during which it was plastic to his organizing and guiding hand, secured to it both its stable basis and its symmetrical development. As a preacher second only to that incomparable Whitefield whom a skeptic like Hume said he would go 20 miles to hear; as a hymnist second only to his peerless brother Charles, who has given 627 hymns to the Methodist hymn book, he was pre-eminent in fitness for patriarchal administration and government. No man has come so near the position of a Protestant pope. In Great Britain his sole judgment sufficed to exclude any member or minister deemed unworthy.

In America, in 1770, the deed of the old John Street church, the first Methodist church in America, restricted its use to such persons as Wesley should appoint. This autocratic constitution was but a natural incident of the period of tutelage through which scattered societies, mainly composed of the humbler sort of people, with their visible bond chiefly in the person of their beloved founder and father, grew at length into a fully organized church in the form of a Presbyterian episcopacy.—Outlook.

Calling the Chickens.

In England the calls chuck, chuck, or coop, coop, prevail; in Virginia, coo-che, coo-che; in Pennsylvania, pee, pee. This latter call is widely employed, being reported from Germany, Spain (as pi, pi), Bulgaria, Hungary, Bavaria and the Tyrol. In the Austrian province the term is used in combination, thus: Pulla, pi, pi; the call pulle, pul, pul, also occurs there.

In some parts of Germany the poultry are called with tick, tick; in Prussia, put, put, and young chickens with tuk, tuk (Grimm), and schip, schip, the latter being an imitation of their own cry. In eastern Prussia hens are called with kluckschen, kluck, kluck; also tippchen, tipp, tipp. Grimm records also pi, pi, and tiet, tiet. Weinhold reports from Bavaria bibi, bibeli bidli; pi, pi, and pul, pul.

In Denmark the call is pootle; in Holland, kip, kip; in Bohemia, tyoo; in Bulgaria, tiri, tiri.—American Anthropologist.

Drouth In Blue Grass Belt.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 28.—Grass in all the blue grass region is dried because of long drouth, and fear of damage by fire is great. Two hundred acres of meadow on John Hayes' farm, six miles northeast of here, was fired by a locomotive and burned over. Other fires have been extinguished by the united efforts of hundreds of neighbors. Timber along the Kentucky river, southeast of Versailles, has been on fire since Saturday. Many houses are threatened.

About $2,000,000 worth of American whisky is annually sent abroad, most of it from Baltimore.

A COLORED DANCE.

Mrs. Stokes, the Rich New York Woman, Will Give It.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 28.—Upon completion of her new barn next Saturday night, Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire horsewoman of New York, intends to give a swell colored dance, to which she has invited a large number of her eastern friends. Five hundred of Lexington's most prominent colored people have been invited and prizes have been offered for several contests which will incite strong competition.

One hundred dollars will be given best cakewalk couple, $100 for best buck dance and $50 for best dressed colored person.

PROTEST OF FOREIGNERS.

They Denounce Authorities All Around For Lattimer Shooting.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 28.—A mass-meeting of Lithuanians and Poles protested against the Lattimer shooting.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the action of the sheriff and deputies and calling upon the workmen to vote with the Socialistic Labor party to secure the redress of wrongs. A protest was entered against the action of Governor Hastings in sending troops to Hazleton, and against the payment of bills for their maintenance by the state.

BISHOP POTTER FAVORS LOW.

He Reaffirms His Belief In the People Voting Right.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—In a New York newspaper of Sept. 22 Bishop Henry C. Potter, then at Saratoga, was quoted as saying that Seth Low will win in the majority contest, adding: "I have great hopes of the common people."

An inquiry wired to the bishop brought reply affirming the statement and emphasizing his faith.

NO WARE CAN GO SOUTH

Potters Must Not Ship to Yellow Fever Districts.

RAILROAD COMPANY REFUSES

To Accept Packages Consigned to the section at Present Under Quarantine. It Will Have Little Influence on Trade For the Orders Will Be Filled.

The business East Liverpool does with every state in the union is so extensive that no happening of unusual importance can occur in the country without its influence being felt in this place. The yellow fever scare is no exception. The freight department of the Pennsylvania company has notified every pottery in the city that the plague is raging in certain portions of the south, and it will not receive shipments of ware consigned to any place within the district described. The order becomes operative at once. It will of course be obeyed.

The order will have little influence on trade in spite of the fact that many orders from the south have come to the potteries. They will be filled, the ware packed and the casks carefully put aside until the railroad decides to accept the freight. When it does there will be a rush of southern business.

PLENTY OF BUSINESS

To Occupy the Attention of Council Tonight.

Council will meet this evening in regular session, and although three special meetings have been held in the last week they will still have plenty of business to occupy their time.

The College street improvement will be disposed of, and the bill posters' ordinance will receive attention, while Solicitor Grosshans will present the ordinance regulating the opening of streets. In addition there are several minor matters to come before the meeting.

Ancient Pueblo Builders.

The ancient pueblo builder, like his modern descendant, was so completely under the dominating influence of his geographic environment that from similar conditions he almost automatically worked out similar results. In the matter of a site for his home, however, he had some latitude, and the choice he made reflected something of the social conditions under which he lived. Thus it is probable that in the earliest times the people lived in small villages located on the edges of valleys or near the mouths of fertile flat bottomed canyons. They lived a quiet, peaceful existence, depending principally on the soil for the means of subsistence, but not despising the harvest of grass seeds and wild nuts which were at hand and glad to break the even, placid course of existence by periodical hunting expeditions to the neighboring mountains for deer and out into the great plains for buffalo.

In the course of time, however, other and more savage tribes came to the region, and these preyed upon the prior occupants of the country, who were industrious and provident and accumulated stores against possible bad seasons. It is doubtful whether there were any pitched battles or prolonged sieges, but the robbers made periodical forays through the fields when the crops were ready for the harvest or perhaps assaulted and looted some small village when the men were away.—Cosmos Mindeleff in Bulletin of American Geographical Society.

A Woman Matadore at Cordova.

Now comes the denouement, for upon a final flourish of trumpets the matadore, who in this particular performance was a woman, steps forth with a brighter red flag or cloak on a staff in her left hand and a good Toledan blade in her right, hidden beneath the right edge of the red flag. The bull makes a dash for the woman. Our ladies turn their heads and ask me what I see, and I report a calm, deliberate and skillful step to the left by the female matadore, a quick flash of the sword, a bend of the body to the right and over the bull's neck a spurting of blood, not very copious, and the sword has pierced the animal's neck close to the shoulder. The jugular is severed, the beast trembles, his knees give way, and he falls amid the applause of the audience at the skill of the swordswoman. Before the matadore proceeded to the slaughter she formally asked permission of the presiding alcalde to do the killing, and, upon his formal consent, proceeded with sword in hand to the front of the bull.—Baltimore Sun.

Brittany Marriage Custom.

In Brittany there is said to prevail a curious marriage custom. On certain fete days the young ladies appear in red petticoats, with white or yellow borders around them. The number of borders denotes the portion the father is willing to give his daughter. Each white band denotes silver—100 francs per annum; each yellow band represents gold—1,000 francs a year.

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

NO WARE CAN GO SOUTH

Potters Must Not Ship to Yellow Fever Districts.

RAILROAD COMPANY REFUSES

To Accept Packages Consigned to the section at Present Under Quarantine. It Will Have Little Influence on Trade For the Orders Will Be Filled.

The business East Liverpool does with every state in the union is so extensive that no happening of unusual importance can occur in the country without its influence being felt in this place. The yellow fever scare is no exception. The freight department of the Pennsylvania company has notified every pottery in the city that the plague is raging in certain portions of the south, and it will not receive shipments of ware consigned to any place within the district described. The order becomes operative at once. It will of course be obeyed.

The order will have little influence on trade in spite of the fact that many orders from the south have come to the potteries. They will be filled, the ware packed and the casks carefully put aside until the railroad decides to accept the freight. When it does there will be a rash of southern business.

PLENTY OF BUSINESS

To Occupy the Attention of Council Tonight.

Council will meet this evening in regular session, and although three special meetings have been held in the last week they will still have plenty of business to occupy their time.

The College street improvement will be disposed of, and the bill posters' ordinance will receive attention, while Solicitor Grosshans will present the ordinance regulating the opening of streets. In addition there are several minor matters to come before the meeting.

Ancient Pueblo Builders.

The ancient pueblo builder, like his modern descendant, was so completely under the dominating influence of his geographic environment that from similar conditions he almost automatically worked out similar results. In the matter of a site for his home, however, he had some latitude, and the choice he made reflected something of the social conditions under which he lived. Thus it is probable that in the earliest times the people lived in small villages located on the edges of valleys or near the mouths of fertile flat bottomed canyons. They lived a quiet, peaceful existence, depending principally on the soil for the means of subsistence, but not despising the harvest of grass seeds and wild nuts which were at hand and glad to break the even, placid course of existence by periodical hunting expeditions to the neighboring mountains for deer and out into the great plains for buffalo.

In the course of time, however, other and more savage tribes came to the region, and these preyed upon the prior occupants of the country, who were industrious and provident and accumulated stores against possible bad seasons. It is doubtful whether there were any pitched battles or prolonged sieges, but the robbers made periodical forays through the fields when the crops were ready for the harvest or perhaps assaulted and looted some small village when the men were away.—Cosmos Mindeleff in Bulletin of American Geographical Society.

A Woman Matadore at Cordova.

Now comes the denouement, for upon a final flourish of trumpets the matadore, who in this particular performance was a woman, steps forth with a brighter red flag or cloak on a staff in her left hand and a good Toledan blade in her right, hidden beneath the right edge of the red flag. The bull makes a dash for the woman. Our ladies turn their heads and ask me what I see, and I report a calm, deliberate and skillful step to the left by the female matadore, a quick flash of the sword, a bend of the body to the right and over the bull's neck a spurting of blood, not very copious, and the sword has pierced the animal's neck close to the shoulder. The jugular is severed, the beast trembles, his knees give way, and he falls amid the applause of the audience at the skill of the swordswoman. Before the matadore proceeded to the slaughter she formally asked permission of the presiding alcalde to do the killing, and, upon his formal consent, proceeded with sword in hand to the front of the bull.—Baltimore Sun.

Brittany Marriage Custom.

In Brittany there is said to prevail a curious marriage custom. On certain fete days the young ladies appear in red petticoats, with white or yellow borders around them. The number of borders denotes the portion the father is willing to give his daughter. Each white band denotes silver—100 francs per annum; each yellow band represents gold—1,000 francs a year.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Daughters of Rebekah will install officers this evening.

The dance given last evening at Turner hall was well attended.

Rev. S. B. Salmon this afternoon rode his wheel to Toronto, where he will visit friends.

The condition of F. D. Kitchell, of Fifth street, who has been ill for some time, is improved.

Edward O'Connor has asked permission to place a set of scales at the lower end of Fifth street.

Miss Carrie Yates, after a short illness, has returned to her work as stenographer in the Union pottery.

Mrs. James Wilson left at noon today for Pittsburg, where she attended the funeral of a friend who died in that city Sunday.

Constable Lyon will this afternoon sell the Elk restaurant to satisfy judgments given S. G. Hard & Co., and F. M. Foutts.

Miss Alice Bucher, of Third street, left for San Bernardino, Cal., this morning to visit her brother, who is ill in that city.

A car load of cattle was received by Phil McBane, last night. They came from the east, and were driven to his farm about midnight.

The Olympic football eleven are practicing regularly, and bid fair to have one of the best juvenile teams in this section of the state.

It was stated here today that the parties who are negotiating for the purchase of the Toronto pottery, have not given up the plan, and negotiations are still on.

Alfred Fritsche, of Cleveland, is here today on business. He is arranging with the D. E. McNicol company to provide the new department with the sprinkler system.

Mrs. Anderson, of Market street, is visiting her father who lives near Calcutta. The gentleman is very ill, and as he is quite old his recovery is considered doubtful.

Despite the fact that the police started out sometime ago to break up the gang of small boys at the corner of Fourth street, the youngsters are as gay as ever, and their number does not seem to have decreased to any great extent.

There is a gas pipe in Franklin street which is above ground for some distance. The circus wagons in passing over it almost cut it in two and it is about ready to break. Somebody should see that the pipe is removed.

The Kennel club has held several meetings recently, and there is now some talk of holding a bench show sometime in December. Several of the members were seen this morning, but refused to say anything about the plans.

Reverend Sheaffer, president of the Pittsburg conference of the Methodist Protestant church, will be in the city tomorrow, the guest of Reverend Swift. He will attend the quarterly conference of the local church where he will present some important business matters.

The postmaster general has issued an order forbidding the renting of letter boxes to minors. The reason was assigned to be the numerous complaints of parents that their children were carrying on clandestine correspondence through the medium of boxes rented by them.

Thomas Wynans, superintendent of circulation of the Pittsburg Leader, was in the city today the guest of Jos. Wilson. The gentleman is preparing an article on the Ohio river industries from Beaver to Wheeling, and this morning was shown about several of the potteries.

Captain Hill this morning received word that the Columbiana county assignment of Mongolian-English pheasants had been shipped, and would arrive within a short time. They were sent from the state of Washington. As to the liberation of the birds Captain Hill is undecided.

The citizens of Salem did not meet last night to perfect arrangements with the Liverpool parties who propose to build a pottery in that place. For reasons which are said to be all that could be desired, the meeting was postponed until Thursday. The committee are working hard, and it is believed the project will be successfully carried out.
